Major Armes attempted to resist arrest, but finally requested a few minutes to prepare himself, and then accompanied the officers to the arsenal in an ambulance which had been provided. After his arrest Captain Armes said to a reporter: "I have no official knowledge of the reason for my arrest, though I might naturally presume that it was in consequence of a letter which I sent to General Schofield yesterday calling his attention to the fact that he has treated me for many years with great injustice. In 1869, when I was stationed at Camp Supply, Indian Territory, I preferred charges against G. W. Graham for stealing government horses. The command-ing officer of the post, Lieutenant Colonel A. D. Nelson, took sides with Graham. I preferred charges then against Nelson. Nelson appealed to Schofield, who was then in command of the department of Missouri, I was court martialed on charges signed by Graham and finally dismissed from the ser

"Congress investigated the charges against me and made a report favorable to my reinstatement. Schofield fought me bitterly at all times, and Secretary of War Belknap joined forces against me. I settled with Belknap by proving that he sold post-traderships. Belknap got out of the war department in disgrace. I was restored to the service in 1876 and was retired in 1883. In 1889 I pulled Governor Beaver's nose in the Riggs house because he grossly insulted me, and Schofield had me court martialled for that. I was sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the city of Washington, within a fifty-mile limit. I served two years and the sentence was remitted. Of course, I want to get out of this as quickly as possible and I will consult my lawyer as soon as I can." Lieutenant General Schofield, when seen

MORPHINE INSTEAD OF QUININE Sad Mistake of a Mother Administering to Her Son.

Jacksonville, Fla, September 27.—A special to The Times-Union from Ocala says that Guy Williams, of Crystal River, a bright youth of eighteen, died last night at 11:30 o'clock. He was the son of Mrs. Mary Williams Allen, one of the best known business women in the state. The son had been suffering from feven and his mother administered what she thought was ouinine cansules, but found-too latewas quinine capsules, but found—too late— that they contained morphine. The youth was preparing to leave Monday to attend at Gainesville, Ga. The mother's grief is heartrending at her mistake and its fatal result.

WILL HE SAY IT HERE

It Is Reported That Mr. Cleveland Will Spring a Sensation.

HIS FRIENDS GIVE IT OUT They Say That He Will Declare

Against a Third Term.

600D TIME AND PLACE TO DO

If He Does Not Speak Positively on the Subject Congress Will Take It Up and Act on It.

Washington, September 27 .- (Special.)-A rumor has been abroad here several days to the effect Cleveland would in his speech at the Atlanta exposition, on October 21st, take occasion to deliver a 'solemn utterance" against the third-term

It is said that Secretary Hoke Smith is the authority for the report, but this cannot be confirmed. If the third-term talk of Mr. Cleveland's friends is persisted in and the president does not put a stop to it by an emphatic declaration, it is probable that the democrats in the next congress will force action on a resolution similar to that offered by ex-Congresman Springer fourteen years ago, when Grant's friends were trying to secure a third nomination for

It is understood that Perry Belmont's anti-third term paragraph in his speech at the New York state democratic convention was eliminated at the request of Senator Hill, because the latter believed that Mr. Cleveland should be given ample opportunity to disavow any third-term ambiion of which he may be possessed before democratic conventions should call a halt. But, unless Mr. Cleveland makes a disavowal before congress meets, or at least in his message to congress December 1st, the Springer precedent will probably be followed.

The adoption of such a resolution would be an authoritive expression of the representatives of the whole people, especially if it were done after full debate on the whole subject touching the lodging of ex-ecutive power too long in the hands of one man. It is agreed that the situation today is not to be examined solely in the light of the situation in Washington's day or in Jackson's day, or even in 1880. The power of the chief executive is greater now than ever before, and the patronage at his disposal infinitely greater. The president of the United States, as the anti-third term democrats insist, has more power than any ruler in Europe, and this power for the public safety cought to he proceed a constitution of the public safety cought to he proceed a constitution of the proceed and the power for the public safety ought to be passed around.

DAMAGES AGAINST SPAIN. Suit Brought by Americans Who Were

Badly Treated. Washington, September 27.-A $20,000 aim for damages against Spain was filed with the state department yesterday on behalf of Gustav Richelieu, an American citizen. Richelieu and August Bolton, both of this country, were engaged in turtle fishing and left Port Au Prince. February 8th last for Cape Haytien, with papers in reg-ular form, etc. Bad weather drove them to the Cuban coast and they finally put into the port of Santiago de Cuba, February 27th. Here they were arrested and thrown into prison for sixty days and kept there without trial, charged with having brought one of he Maceo brothers to Cuba. The men appealed to Consul Hyatt, who, after many protests, finally secured their liberation April 25th. Both men deny having any-thing to do with the insurgents; said they brought no one to the island and would not have known Maceo had they seen him. Their papers showed they were in legiti-mate trade, but despite all their represntations, their vessel, a small sloop, was confiscated and they were enabled to reach the United States only through the aid of the United States consul.

The New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania delegates took the purpose of consulting with the members of the executive council concerning the isof the executive council concerning the issue of charters to local organizations and other matters relating to the preliminary work of the alliance. The delegates express themselves well satisfied at the outcome of the convention, and go so far as to predict that 5,000,000 Irish-Americans will emblem or device of said New York state be enrolled under the banner of the new movement before the advent of 1896. The appointment by President Lyman of Major John P. Sutton, of New York, formerly of Nebraska, who was secretary of the old Irish National League for several years, as secretary of the Irish alliance is received with general approval.

It is said this morning that the element of the race in this country that is antagonistic to the new movement and its pro-moters, and which sounded its note of warning immediately after the call for the recent convention had been issued, will issue an address to the people of the United States repudiating the convention and its action, and declaring that it does not represent the true feeling of the Irish people on this continent, but has solely been promoted with an eye singly to the manipulation of the Irish vote of the approaching presidential campaign.

CORPORATIONS AND CHARTERS Were the Questions Discussed by the ATLANTA, GA., SATURDAY, MORNING, SEPTEMBER 28, 1895.

South Carolina Convention Columbia, S. C., September 27.-In the constitutional convention today the committee on corporations reported an article covering that subject in nineteen sections, most of which are wholly novel in the organic law of this state, the old constitution having touched very lightly upon the regulation of corporations. The first section defines corporations to be all associations and joint stock companies, having powers and privileges not possessed by individuals or partnerships, and excludes municipal experiences. cipal corporations.
Successive sections show the following provisions of general interest: No railroad, express, telegraph or telephone company is allowed to make contracts relieving it is allowed to make contracts relieving it from its common law liability. No charter shall be granted by special law except to institutions under the control of the state, but the legislature is required to provide for their organization under general laws, and all charters are to be subject to repeal. Every corporation doing business in the state shall maintain at least one public office in it for the transaction of business, an exhibit of the holdings of stock, etc. an exhibit of the holdings of stock, etc. All discrimination in charges or facilities for transportation and all charges of high rates for short than for long distances are prohibited. Any railroad may connect with, cross or intersect any other railroad. Ne railroad or transportation company shall control or consolidate with parallel or competing lines, and juries are to decide the question whether lines are parallel or competing. The legislature is forbidden to grant any foreign association or corporation a license to build, operate or lease railroad lines in South Carolina, but in case of interstate lines the owners must be corporated under the state laws. No general or special law shall be passed for the benefit of any foreign corporation operating a rallroad in the state. The legislature is forbidden to grant any charter for banking purposes, but corporations or associations for such purposes may be formed under general laws.

The report of the committee on municipalities left it optional with the legisla

cipalities left it optional with the legisla-ture to license liquor selling or prohibit or continue the dispensary system. A mo-tion was made to amend by prohibiting the granting of licenses for the sale of liquor. There was a long debate upon this, the conservative members and some re-formers declaring that there was a general normers deciaring that there was a general understanding during the campaign that this question should be left open. At last Tillman said that he had pledged himself to leave it open and was committed, and while he did not want ever to see a saloon in South Carolina again, the dispensary enberg system, so it would be unwise to prohibit all licensing. In his motion th debate was adjourned until tomorrow to enable himself and others to prepare an amendment which would meet the diffi-culty. After other work of no general interest a recess was taken until evening.
The night session was one of the stormlest the convention has ever held. Colonel Robert Aldrich offered an amendi which denied to the negro the right to hold any office in the state and for an hour and a half argued from decisions of the su-preme court and the Congressional Record containing the story of the passage of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments, that the right had never been given the negro to hold office by the United Stated consti-tution or amendments. He seemed to impress many members to such an extent that Senator Tillman jumped on him with both feet and a stormy hour or more followed. Colonel Aldrich and Tillman had it hot and heavy. Tillman was never more vehement in all his life. He told them that if they did not kill the matter there and then they would make the greatest mistake of their lives; they would be ruined. Tillman's influence controlled the situation and despite persistent efforts to adjourn the convention laid Colonel Aldrich's scheme on the table by a vote of 102 to 25.

COTTON BOOMS BUSINESS

No One Can Tell Anything About the Iron and Steel Market.

LARGE CONTRACTS FOR FOREIGN USE The Gold Exports Cause Much Uneasiness in the Commercial World.

Business Is Improving.

New York, September 27 .- R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly review of trade, will

"The full statement of about 2,800 com mercial failures for the third quarter of 1895 will-be published next week, and will show liabilities of about $30,000,000, of which about $11,000,000 have been of manufacturing and $17,600,000 of trading concerns. In the same quarter of last year the failures were 2,868, and the liabilities $29,411,196, of which $12,331,892 were of manufacturing and $15,-181,230 of trading concerns.

"The week's reports are highly encouraging as to monetary matters, although exports of gold still continue, and also as to the cotton manufacturer, but not as satisfactory regarding iron, woolen, leather or silk manufacturers.

"The speculation in cotton has lifted the price to %c during the past week and quotations here are so much higher than at Liverpool that free exports cannot be expected. It seems no longer possible to hope for a good crop and Neill Bros. lave issued a circular predicting a yield of only 7,000,000 bales. The accounts of injury and loss grow more dismal each week while they may be exaggerated, the general outlook is decidedly unfavorable. But for the extraordinary supplies carried over from last year, the manufacturer here and abroad would be in trouble. But prices of goods rise each week, adding to the profit of mills, which on both sides of the ocean can use for some time to come old cotton bought at low prices. It is not yet clear how far the consumption will support the manufacturer at the present rate and at present prices for goods, though the de mand from dealers is naturally while the market for the raw material is constantly rising. There is still chance of a strike in Fall River mills. though the rise in prices will make it easier for the mills to grant some auyan-tage in wages. "Nothing is clear about the iron and steel manufacture, but some of the largest Pittsburg concerns, professing to have orders for many months ahead, are bidding for small contracts in eastern markets at $1 to $1.50 per ton less than the quoted rate. Some say that it is done to depress the market, and again it is thought that the object may be to buy materials, but contracts have been made at the cast for 250,000 tons of foreign are to be used in Bessemer iron making at eastern fur-naces, and the termination of the Marquette strike sets free about half a million tons of Bessemer ore within the period of lake navigation. The strike of coke workers at Connellsville seems to have been avoided. The Iron Age reasons that nothing can explain the situation except some large movement in steel rails not yet made known. For the first week in many months the average of prices of iron and steel products shows no change wlatever, though the demand for finished products is distinctly reduced. the exports of gold, though not as large as they were some weeks ago, cause some disquiet in view of the disbanding of the bond syndicate. Money has gone to the interior rather largely and there is considerable increase in the volume of commercial loans. Failures for the week have been 216 in the United States against 235 last year and fifty in Canada against fiftyfive last year."

Bradstreet's Review.

Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: "Striking features of the week are increased demand for money east and west, the maintenance of the widespread and active demand for iron and steel and the further upward movement of the price of raw cotton, together with advances in quotations for wheat flour, wheat and wool. Sudden changes in the weather af-fecting a wide expanse of territory have made general trade irregular, but reports from these sections unfavorably affected are in part offset by the stimulation of the money market at Boston, New York, demand for certain staples in other portions of the country. The improved de-mand for funds continues a feature of Chicago, St. Louis and at minor centers. Inquiry among bankers at cities referred to reveals a better demand from all classes of mercantile borrowers.

"Higher prices for foreign wools in Lon don have compelled domestic manufactur-ers to pay more for raw material. At present quotations foreign wools in d tic markets can be sold abroad at a profit Trade in light-weight woolens is unsatis factory and owing to the high price and strength of cotton, caution is being exercised in buying cotton goods. The south is more bullish on cotton and the con-tinued evidence of a short crop appears to have at last compelled recognition

"General business with the south has shown improvement at Memphis, Nash-ville, Atlanta and Birmingham, demand for funds is improving and all that appears needed is a freer movement of cotton There were 9,299 mercantile failures in the United States during the past nine menths as reported to Bradstreet's, only fortyeight more than in the like period of last year, which coincidence is paralleled by the total amounts of assets and ilabilities of failing traders this year being sub-stantially the same as in the like period one year ago. The feature of the failure record for the nine months lies in the relatively large number reported in the first quarter of the year, since which the totals have fallen off from week to week very sharply. Business failures in New England have decreased notably as com-England have decreased notatly as com-pared with a year ago, while those at the south have increased about as much. There are more fallures reported from western states this year than last, while in the northwest and on the Pacific coast there are fewer.

The jury dismissed the complaints against Joseph Guiber, plasterer, and Jefferds Lilick, foreman, who succeeded Murray.

DULL DAY AT DURRANT'S TRIAL The Defense Offers the Testimony of a Gas Fitter.

San Francisco, September 27.-Today was the tamest session of the Durrant case. It was expected that the defense would continue in its efforts to show that Durrant was at the college on the afternoon of the murder, but instead it switched off to the technical matters connected with the church. The consequence was a tame day of prosaic points about marks on the church tower door and the sunburners where Durrant alleges he was repairing an electrical vibrator. This was not without its use in the case, and in that portion relating to the sunburners, the detense showed that there was defective ventila-tion around them and that their theory as to gas having overcome Durrant on the afternoon of the murder was not altogeth-

Edwin W. Carpenter, a gas fitter, who examined the sunburrers at the request of the defense, testified that the ventilators above them afforded no draught and that he had found the damper in one of them closed. His investigation showed that a person in the position Durrant alleges he was in fixing the apparatus connected with the sunburners might have been overcome by an escape of gas. The gas supply con-nected with the burners was turned on at a point seventy-five feet from the sunrners and on the floor below them. Any one fixing the apparatus, if alone, as Durrant is alleged to have been, would, he said, have had to turn on the gas before ascending to the burners. This Durrant alleges he did, but there is no evidence to show that he turned the gas off again. During the time Organist King was absent for the bromo seltzer, he says, he was lying down on a platform in the Sunday school room, and he did not turn the gas off after that, according to the statement of King. Robert W. T. Martland, an electrician, another witness who visited the scene of the sunburners in the interest of the defense, produced drawings of the sunburners and a duplicate of the electrical vibrator used in one of them to light the His testimony in connection with this was favorable to the defense. He said in one of the ventilator pipes there was quite a hole. It is apparent that the defense will not confine itself to the alibi, but that it will fight the case exhaustively on every point. The case today went over until Tuesday.

A DEAL WITH THE STANDARD.

The Company Will Take Charge of the Rugby Settlement. Pittsburg, Pa., September 27.-Henry Kim ber, member of the English parliament, stockholder and director of the angloAmerican settlement at Rugby, Tenn., arrived in Pittsburg from London ten days ago. Today Mr. Kimber closed a deal with the Standard Oil Company and leased to them the 35,000 acres of land in the Rugby tract in Tennessee. Oil and gas have recently beeen discovered on the extensive tract in paying quantities, and the Standard Oil Company will develop the find. The terms or duration of the lease have not yet been made public.

Rugby is a settlement of which prominent Englishmen like Thompson, Hughes the Englishmen like Thompson, Hughes the author, and others have been interested in promoting. After a development of ten years the town of Rugby claims only 1,200 people. The venture proving a disappoint-ment to its promoters, Mr. Kimber, acting as representative of the English stockhold-ers, came for the express purpose of turning the property over to the Standard Oil Company for development as oil terrotory.

Mr. Carlisle's Clerks Hope That the Philanthropic Bankers Will Come to the Government's Relief.

Washington, September 27 .- The treasury gold reserve has been reduced to $92,702,677, at which figure it stood when the treasury closed its doors today. These figures were reached today by a withdrawal at New York for export of $1,500,000. Since the present export gold movement began on July 13th, last, there have been withdrawn from the United States treasury $32,450,000 in gold, all of which with the exception of less than a million has been sent to Europe. The total gold exported exceeds this figure as some gold, especially the gold bullion exported, was furnished by the banks of New York. During the same period gold was furnished by ine syndicate and by the New York national banks and others to the amount of $15,3.5,000. The figures to which the treasury gold reserve has now been reduced by incessant exports are lower than since April 30th, last, on which date they are stated at $91,247,144. Under the syndicate agreement gold was then being paid into the treasury and from that date the reserve increased up to June 29th, when it attained its maximum height this year, standing at $107,512,362. From that time the gold reserve has gradually declined until today's figures were reached. Treasury chicials decline to discuss the prospects of further gold shipments, as the situation is very much mixed. The present mov mont appears to consist chiefly of legitinate exports with not much more than a tinge of speculative motives apparent. No uneasiness and no anticipations of any emergency arising sufficient to make newssary another bond issue are entertained in well informed treasury circles. While no official information can be obtained on the subject, the belief is en'ertained that the national banks of New York may come further to the relief of the treasury next week and strengthen the gold reserve by $10,000,000 or so. Government officials are encouraged to believe that within a month the number of commercial bills that will be on the market as a result of the export of American cereals and cotton will turn the inde of exchange and stop gold exports for some time to come. The situation, however, is so kaleidoscopic that no one here whose opinion is worth quoting will express one

NO CHANGES ON THE S. A. L. Rumors That Major Winder Is To Be

Reinstated Denied. Baltimore, September 27 .- Reports have been industriously circulated during the past few days respecting impending changes that affect the higher officials of the Seaboard Air-Line Railway Company. The essence of the rumors is that Major John C. Winder, formerly vice president of that system, is to be reinstated in his old position, and that Vice President St. John has already tendered his resignation The attention of President R. Curzon Hoffman was called to the rumors and he said they were evidently the product of the same malicious persons who had been spreading such outrageous and ridiculous reports from time to time; that there was no truth whatever in any of them and that the entire statement was false in every particular; that there was no changes contemplated in the management of the Sepheral Arr. The Jolly Editors of the Blue Grass State Are Going Home.

HAVE ENJOYED THEIR VISIT

They Talk of Politics and Race Horses. All Were Delighted with Atlanta and the Exposition.

To have two hundred Kentucky colonels to any one city all in a bunch is glor; enough for one day.

Atlanta has had them for two days and would like to have them always. The edi tors from the Blue Grass state have fairly captured the Gate City of the South with their merriment, their jokes and funny stories and their incomparable conviviality.

Somehow the Kentucky colonel has way of making himself at home whereve he goes, and that's the kind of people Atlanta loves to entertain. The Kentucky colonel has no stils. He simply walks of the ground and "runs up against" anybody he pleases, asks as many questions as he pleases, takes as many drinks as he pleases-in fact make himelf good ompany

But, the editors have already begun to leave for their homes in the land "where the sun shines bright." Many of them went away last night; some will remain to day and leave tonight, and others will not depart until tomorrow.

Atlanta was the objective point. They have come, conquered everything and everybody in sight, and have disbanded

They spent yesterday visiting the many points of interest about the city. Some of them early in the morning went to the old battlefields around Atlanta's suburbs. Later in the forenoon they all went in a body to the exposition grounds and spent the day there seeing the sights of the south's greatest show, taking in every one of the d lights of Midway and reveling in the plea ures of a joyous day on the grounds and under the shade trees of Piedmont park. They were all astonished at the great conception and scope of the Cotton States International exposition, for while they had heard of its significance they little dreamed of its real force and meaning, Before they disbanded in Atlanta the Kentucky editors approved the following Secretary Gaines, of the Kentucky Press

Card of Acknowledgments.

"The Kentucky Press Association takes this opportunity through the public print to make their sincere acknowledgments to make their sincere acknowledgments especially to the management of the Cotton States and International exposition, and through them to the people of the Magic City, for the royal welcome we are receiving at their hands and to assure them that the memory of our visit will be gladly carried back to the 'Old Kentucky Home.' The goldbugs, as they are called, saw that it would never do to fight Hardin because he about the ticket going through. The aver age democratic majority in the state for the past five presidential elections has been 30,000. While we think, owing to some fac-tions in Louisville the loss there will be part of Kentucky, where the sentiment is strong in favor of free silver, the ticket will gain votes over all preceding years. We think that there will be voters brought out to the polls November 5th, which is election day, that have not been brought

"I am a candidate on the democratic ticket for commissioner of agcratic ticket for commissioner of aglay aside all personal feeling when I pre dict that the ticket will go through all right and easy. I don't think there can be any doubt in the world of a complete victory for the ticket. The campaign being waged by Hardin is a red-hot one and the waged by Hardin is a red-hot one and the cause of the free coinage of silver is gaining ground every day wherever he preaches the doctrine. I am sure that the people of Kentucky are with Hardin by a large majority. The cause is going to win that state just as Hardin is preaching it in spite of the fact that the state democratic convention seemed to be split on the question of finance."

from Kentucky, was talking about horses yesterday at the Oriental hotel.

"It is all a mistake," said he, "to think for a moment that the state of California is ever going to outdo kentucky in the horse-rasing business. I know they claim out there that they are getting anead of Kentucky in the matter of raising record breakers, but that was due to the fact that Senator Stanford was rather storessful. STORMS IN MICHIGAN.

Houses Lifted from Their Foundations.

An Electrical Display. Detroit, Mich., September 27.—Reports re-ceived tonight from Kent, Montcalm and Muskegon counties tell of destructive wind and electric storms there last night. Wind down the Good Templars hall, three miles from Lakeview, entirely demolishing it. Some of the timbers were carried eighty rods. The new Moffett school was moved entirely from its foundation and carried several feet away and would have probably been wrecked had it not hit large pine stump. Jay Vining's residence was lifted from its foundation but no dam-age done further than the bruising of the family. The buildings were within eighty rods of each other.

During an electric storm at Whitehall lightning struck the barn of William Morris, burning it and the house. Nels Mikel-son's large barn at Montague, containing four horses, grain and machinery valued at $5,000, was destroyed. At Holland a thunder storm, accompanied by heavy rain and wind, passed over the town, flooding the streets. The barn of Lubbert Hop, in New Holland, was struck The barn of by lightning, killing two horses. The house and barns of George Childs, near Greenwood, was blown to pieces by

HAAS LÉAVES THE SOUTHERN. He Says He Will Never Work for Any

Railroad Again. Washington, September 27.—(Special.)— Just as was stated in The Constitution ten days ago, Sol Haas, assistant to the presi-dent of the Southern railroad, has resigned. His resignation was tendered in New York this afternoon. It was brought about by the appointment, which takes effect Octo-ber 1st, of W. W. Finley as third vice pres-ident of the rallroad in charge of the traffic department.

For a number of years Mr. Haas was traffic manager to the entire system. traffic manager to the entire system About six months ago he was made assist ant to the president, Samuel Spencer, with John M. Culp promoted from assistant traffic manager to traffic manager.

Mr. Haas was for a number of years traffic manager of the Atlantic Coast Line. He has lived in Washington for a long time and is well known here. As a rail tire United States. He is from Georgia and went into the railroad business when a very young man. Besides the resignation of Mr. Haas the following changes will be made on October 1st: Colonel A. B. Andrews, first vice president; William H. Baldwin, second vice president; W. W. Finiey, third vice president. Paul I. Wells was named as superintendent of the sixth division. Colonel Andrews's headquarers will remain at Raleigh. Mr. Finley will come to Washington. Mr. Wells goes to Columbia. Promotion on merits is one of the most commendable characteristics of this popular line. The election of these officers is the continuance of the esteen and confidence in which they are held by he directors. There is a rumor that other resignations and appointments in the directory will take place soon.

BELLE BOYD IN TROUBLE.

She Is Arrested for Jumping Her Hotel Bill and for Disorderly Conduct.

Griffin, Ga., September 27.—(Special)—Belle Boyd, the "rebel spy," is having a practical demonstration of the truth of the old adage that "it never rains but i pours," so far as trouble is concerned anyway. Her lecture here on Tuesday night, though extensively advertised, did not draw a large house and after paying expenses there was but little money left. Wednes-day morning, leaving her baggage and children here, she went to Barnesville to make a date. At this juncture the proprietor of the hotel at which she had been stopping for several days, became alarmed.

Upon her return to Griffin she had the hotel man arrested on a charge of false imprisonment, and as the trial justice would not allow him to give bond, he would have been compelled to go to Barnesville today to stand trial had not his attorneys sued out a writ of habeas corpus. This was tried this morning before Ordinary Hammond and was com promised by allowing Mr. Chambers to take his case to the next session of Pike superior court.

In the meantime the lecturer moved her effects to the Goddard house and then pro-ceeded to give the proprietor of the Cham-bers hotel a piece of her mind. At this point in the game Chief of Police Shackleord was called in and asked to make case of disorderly conduct against the lady. The case will be tried in the police court tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Belle Boyd went down to Barnesville last night to deliver her lecture, but it is said that she had only empty benches for an audience. Her lecture is pronounced excellent by those who have heard it and they are mystified that she does not draw

CORBETT'S COMING

The Champion's Arrival Is Now Attracting General Attention.

WILL BE RECEIVED BY A CROWD

And Will Be Requested To Attend Delightful Spread To Be Given in His Honor.

Corbett's coming next week has begun to be the sole topic of talk among those who are given to sports in Atlanta.

And the indications now are that wher the champion reaches the city he will be greeted by one of the largest and most enthusiastic crowds that has gathered around the union depot since the night Corbett passed through on his way to New Orleans for his turn with Sullivan, the greatest of them all.

Corbett was one of the most popular prize fighters the south had ever seen when he vent to the Crescent City for his nght with Sullivan and in Atlanta there were many who were anxious to see fight. But there were many too v still liked the greatest and grandest gladiator of them all, and while they were anxious to see Corbett defeated they turned out to see him, just for the purpose of looking at the man who had the nerve to meet

Sullivan. Since the match between Corbett and Fitzsimmons was made there has been a great deal of interest among the Atlantians ho are fond of the ring, and every turn has been watched with the greatest interest. Now that Fitz has passed through the city on his way to the battle ground and will be hard at work by Monday preparing for the fight, the interest has turned upon Corbett and his coming. It i more than probable that the reception he will have when he reaches the the attention which will be paid him while he is here will be greater than that he re-ceived when he was first here. Some of the local sports are now busy arranging at entertainment for Corbett while he is in the city and a letter has been sent to Brady, his manager, asking that the cham pion accept the invitation which will be tendered him by a committee when he reaches the city.

Corbett has not been doing as much work as Fitz to put him in condition for the fight, but those who have seen him say that he will not need half the training the blacksmith will need to make him a fit worker for the victory he wants and the last one he will ever attempt to secure. He is yet aplaining of that leg he hurt while rid ing the wheel, from which he was thrown, and gives that as an excuse for not training any more than he has. But it is thought that when Corbett gets ready for work he will not find that knee in the way in the least, but that he will be ready to use the limb and the joint as cleverly as ever before.

That there is some doubt about the fight tion. That same uncertainty which exist ed in Jacksonville exists now in Dallas and smaller than it would be if there was no doubt about the battle being pulled off. The a call for an extra the legislature of the Lone Star State to take action on the mat-ter makes the fight more uncertain, and unless the legislature refuses to pass a law prohibiting the fight the attendance from this section of the country will be lighter than it would be with the matter hanging as it now is. The management of the co cannot be brought off in Dallas the at some point to be selected. The question of a referee, which has been thering both sides in the coming contest, is offered a solution by the suggestion of the name of John L. Sullivan, Sullivan has been in many fights and is thoroughly posted and would make an excellent referee. He knows all the points and would suit everybody if the two fighters sho upon him. The suggestion of Sullivan has taken well wherever it has been mentioned and the indications are that his name will be presented to the two contestants for the position. That all of his decisions would be based upon everything that is right there is no one who has any doubt. He is one of the few men of his line of work who carries no ill will toward any man and one in any connection he may have with a contest of the kind.

Fitz Boxes with Roeber.

New Orleans, September 27.-Fitzsim nons and party left here tonight for Texas. He will not accept Louis Houseman, of Chicago, as referee. He is in fine condition and believes Brady is writing to Gov-ernor Culberson so that the fight will be interrupted.

Fitzsimmons boxed with Roeber tonight at the Young Men's Gymnastic Club. He scored Lawyer Friend and asserts that his affairs are now in the hands of Howe & Hummell. If Corbett backs out he vifight Maher or any man in the world.

The crew of the American yacht consisted of the captain who steered, and his brother, who tended the sails. The trip will not begin until after the games for the Temple cup have been played. It is now thought that the start will be made from Philadelphia about October 12th and that two games will be played in that city between the two teams. Then the two teams will go to Baltimore, where two games will be played, after which a schedule will be made out for the tour of the south. Richmond will be the tour of the south. Richmond will be the first stop after leaving Baltimore and there a series will be played. Then Charleston, Augusta and Savannah will be played before the teams come to Atlanta, where they will remain a week or more. Mobile, New Orleans and Dallas will be taken in and the teams will disband at Dallas. The trip is for the benefit of the players and what money is made will be divided among the members of the two teams.

omething of the Personality of San Luis Potosi's Governor, Who Will Spend Several Days Here.

General Carios Gutierrez, governor of the state of San Luis Potosi, Mexico, is expected to reach Atlanta tomorrow about noon. He is accompanied by his staff of officers and aids: The object of General Gutierrez's visit to Atlanta is to see the exposition and the people of the United States. He is regarded in Mexico by the American people as one of their best and most sympathetic friends. His feeling toward this government is of an especially enthusiastic kind. A telegraphic dispatch was received by The Constitution yesterday from Laredo, Tex., stating that the governor and his party left home-San Luis Potosi-on the 26th instant via Eagle Pass and cros the frontier last night. Should no accident befall the party to delay them they will reach New Orleans tonight and Atlanta ome time tomorrow. The personnel of the party is not known, since the exposition people have not been apprised of it. It is very probable, howver, that Mrs. Guiterrez is with her dis-inguished husband. When the exposition committee, of distinguished Atlantians, visited Mexic to extend in person an invitation to Fresident Diaz, of the Mexican republic, to attend the exposition, they received from the American colony in San Luis Potosi a telegram, joined in by General Guiterrez urging them to come to that state on their eturn to this government. The committee lecided to accept the cordial invitation and did accept. Leaving Mexico City, they went over to San Luis Potosi. arrival they were met by the American colony and the distinguished chief executive of that prosperous state. At the invitation of the governor the committee wa taken to the plaza, where a band of a hundred pieces greeted them with 'Hail A special concert was ther Columbia. arried out for the pleasure and entertainment of the visiting Americans. This over, they were royally entertained with a dinner, when many warm and cordial speeches vere exchanged, showing the close bond of fellowship existing between the two gov ernments. Then the visitors were taken to the theater, which had just been complet ed at a cost of two million dollars. Here they occupied boxes with the governor and his staff as special guests. The few hours the party remained there were crowded with rounds of pleasure. When they left Governor Gutierrez assured them that he would attend the exposition. He is coming and will be a special guest of the exposition. That his stay here will be al mensurate with his position and dis is commensurate with his position and dis-tinction is unquestioned. He will be met at the depot by this committee and from then until his departure every attention and entertainment will be lavishly bestow-ed upon him and his party.

General Carlos Gutierrez is a man of especial distinction in Mexico. He is a warm and intimate friend of President Diaz, hence they are thrown together very frequently. Because of his broad policy in governmental affairs, his patriotic devotion o principle, devotion to his people and consideration for all foreign subjects, Gen eral Gutierrez is universaily liked and well Drink beer! Don't irink beer! This seems like vew contradictory advice, but, nevertheless, it is the condensed opinions of two great classes of people.

There are some who believe that a glass of beer is a healthful, invigorating beverage.

There are others who regard beer as a sort of diaguised polon. All, the stranger of disguised poison. And the strangest thing about it is that both opinions he right under certain cond beer may be either a beneft or a curs according to the health of the person wh drinks it. If a man or woman is hand, there is a weak spot in the liver or kidneys, injury will result from the drin ing. One of the greatest proofs that liver complaint is more common than we suspect is the off-repeated remark of beer drinkers: "I wish I hadn't taken that glass."

In this way, beer acts as a barometer which snows the state of the health. If you drink a glass of beer and soon after commence to feel that something is wrong in the small of your back, or have a dull, heavy feeling, a bad taste in the mouth and, perhaps, the first stages of a headache, you may be sure that your liver and kidneys need prompt attention. Neglect the warning, and more serious results are bound to follow sooner or later.

POISONED BY CALOMEL

A Husband Is Accused of Killing His Wife-He Disappears. Florence, Ala., September 27 .- (Special.)-

Yesterday morning Mrs. William Porter, the wife of a carpenter, died after a long illness. It developed today that the woman's death was probably due directly to calomel administered in poisonous doses by her husband with the intent to kill her.

Mrs. Porter has been suffering with rheumatism and was a helpless invalid for nearly a year. Her husband got tired of his burden and decided to put her out of the way. Two weeks are but her out of the way. Two weeks ago he purchases three bottles of calomel and began to an minister in large doses diluted in milk. In less than a week the woman was in a horrible condition. She told the neighbors that her husband had poisoned and they approached him on the subject. Becoming alarmed, he left town. The woman was so severely salivated that pieces of flesh dropped off and parts of her jaw bone came out before she died. Her suf-ferings during the last few days of life were beyond description.

lector Jones, for the year 1894, submitted today to the county commissioners, the insolvent poll taxes amount to $5.810. This meens there are 5,810 persons in Bibb who cannot vote because they have not paid the poll tax of $1. This is certainly a remarkable and very bad showing. There is no way of enforcing the collection of this tax. The commissioners met this morning for the purpose of passing on the insolvent tax lists of the tax collector for 1894. The insolvent taxes for state and coursy amount to only $1,562.62, out of a total tax of about $175,000. This shows that the tax collector has been diligent in the collection of the taxes and has collected up very close. Of the $1,552.62, the tate's proportion is $50.35. Some of this insolvent tax, though, will yet be collected. The taxes for 1895 are being paid very well, but many property owners will wait until the very last hour before paying. They have until December 20th.

He then went to learn his trade, that cf a ship carpenter, and served four years as an apprentice, after which he took up the study of marine and naval architecture. After serving his time he charge as foreman of his father's business, Willink's marine railway, of this city, and is now practically its manager. His first experience in politics was in 1892, when he joined the David B. Hill Club of this city and worked hard to se cure an indorsement for his candidate. He was actively engaged in the legislative campaign in Chatham county in the same year when Osborne, Doolan and Guerard were elected. At that time he was elec a member of the county executive committee and in the primary of 1891 was also elected a member of the committee by a vote of the people. In January, 1895, he ran on the Citizens' Club ticket for alderman and, with all other members of the ticket was overwhelmingly elected. The same may be said of the recent election in which he was chosen over Messrs. Walter C. Hartridge, representing the opposition to the Citizens' Club, and W. C. Travis, the union labor candidate, by the clear majority of 644 out of a total vote of 2,970.

The River Has Been Dragged Thoroughly, but the Body Has Not Been Found-Cotton at Rome.

Rome, Ga., September 27 .- (Special.)-Henry Phillips, a young farmer nineteen years of age, shot and mortally wounded imself tonight at his home in west Rome. He was in love with a girl and last week started to get a license to marry her, when his father overtook him and forced him to return to his home. He brooded over the trouble until tonight. While the family were at supper he secured a pistol, and leaving the house, stepped into the chimney corner and fired the fatal shot. The bullet entered the abdomen and at a late hour he was still lying unconscious and his death was expected at any moment.

Cannot Find the Boy. The disappearance of James Vandiver yesterday afternoon is one of the most perplexing things that has occurred here in a

Hale and Wert Bamie and Linton and James Vandiver went down to the Etowah river, just in the edge of town, after school to go in bathing. The boys were all about ten or twelve years old and the Bowie boys are excellent swimmers. James Vandiver was a poor swimmer and they cautioned him about entering the water.

and were attracted by Linton Vandiver calling his brother. He had disappeared, leaving his clothes lying on the bank. None of the party had seen him enter the water, but of course they naturally supposed he had jumped into the water and sank.

Wertz Bowie ran for help, while Hale attempted to find the boy by diving. Captain W. M. Towers and Mr. Bowie soon reached the spot, the police were notified and a vigorous search was begun. The heart-broken mother, who is a widow, remained on the bank of the stream till a late hour, while the searchers drag-ged the river without avail.

This morning at an early hour they went In morning at an early hour they went to work again to find the body and have been searching all day. They have been unable to find any trace of the boy. Everybody believes that he was drowned, but so far the mystery of his fate has not been solved.

Mrs. Bowie is a widow in good cir-cumstances and the boy had a happy and comfortable home.

If the boy had run away the mystery is how could he have got away without clothes, yet some are hopeful that he was not drowned but disappeared from some other cause.

Cotton Coming in Rapidly.

When cotton jumped to % cents a pound here yesterday it created quite a flurry among factors and farmers and all day today the wagons have been rolling the results will run in to someday today the wagons have been roung in and the receipts will run up to something like 200 bales. The reports from the cotton fields are very discouraging, rust, boll worms and caterpillars having damaged the crop very seriously during the last few weeks.

Over 100,000 bales were marketed here last season, but it is thought that the receipts w... fall a great deal snort of that this season.

Foreman Julian Crowley, of No. 2, has just returned to Rome, after a visit to Atlanta, and he is enthusiastic over the race. Rome firemen have held their own very well in various contests heretofore, but it remains to be seen how they will come out in such a contest as that. The team will be selected and the training will begin right away. The boys are going to do their best to make a record on that day.

The Exposition Car. The committee in charge of the Floyd The committee in charge of the Floyd county exhibit is still at work heroically to get the second car ready to send to Atlanta. It was to have been sent yesterday, but there was not enough to fill it, and it will now be postponed until Monday, when Captain Townes hopes to be able to send down a carload of creditable exhibits to add to what is already in position there.

Ladies as Grocers. The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Peter's The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Peter's church had charge of the grocery store of E. C. Wood & Co. today, the proceeds going for the benefit of St. Peter's church. They did fairly well and realized a snug sum to add to the building fund.

The building has now reached a point where it begins to indicate what it will be when completed. The stone work on the tall gables and arches is nearly done and if the ladies can secure the money it will soon be ready for the slate roof. They have worked heroically all summer to have the church completed before the cold weather sets in.

Paine's celery compound attacks the disease by getting the system back to its properly nourished condition. It stands alone in the history of medicine. It is a certain specific for the cure, not only of rheumatism, but also of all diseases due to impoverished nerves and blood.

The close connection of well-fed nerves and brain with health, is the solid rock upon which Paine's celery compound stands. The thouands of men and women all over the country who have been cured of rheumatism once and for all, by Paine's celery compound, have made good all that the medical fraternity first predicted for it. That it restores health and strength to the body made weary, listless and despon-dent from nervous debility, needs no proof today in thousands of homes.

The list of those it has freed from rheu-matism is a long one. It contains a host of well known men and women at home and abroad. Every city and town in the United States and Canada is represented.

Paine's celery compound was first prepared by Professor Edward E. Phelps M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college. Eve since its first appearance it has been the one recognized nerve and brain invigorator ong medical men. Its constant use physicians, where an active nutriment is urgently needed, speaks volumes for its Strength, buoyant spirits and freedom from pain comes with its use.

LAW BY GAS LIGHT. Judge Lumpkin Charged the Graham-

Cunningham Jury Last Night. At 10 o'clock last night Judge Lumpkin charged the jury in the case of Graham against Cunningham, regarding the will of the late Judge Cunningham, and a halfhour later instructed the jury to bring in a sealed verdict. No verdict was ready at a very late hour. but this morning if the jury has agreed, the sealed verdict will be handed to the sheriff. This will case has been in hearing before Judge Lumpkin for a week or more, and has been both interesting and sensational. Certain features of the testimony bordered on the sensational, and on both sides the fight has been a severe one. When Judge Cunningham, who was one of Georgia's ablest and most honored attorneys, died at his home in West End, he left a will by which he gave his daughter, Mrs. Leila Graham, the income from $2,500 for life. This was not satisfactory to Mrs Graham, who believed that she was entitled to an equitable share in the estate, It seems that there had been an estrangement between Judge Cunningham and hi eldest daughter by reason of her marriage against his will. For several years the eldest daughter and the remainder of the family did not speak to each other. Less and less cordial their relations grew every day. When the will of Judge Cunningham was filed his oldest daughter appeared as caveator. Judge Calhoun, ordinary, de cided that the will was valid and an appeal was had, the case going to the superior court, where it has been on trial as already

Judge Hillyer and Hooper Alexander made arguments for the propounders of the will and R. J. Jordan spoke for the caveator. The speeches were all able ones and the law was handled thoroughly on both sides. It was not until after 9 o'clock that Judge Hillyer finished his speech anl Judge Lumpkin then charged the jury. After waiting half an hour a sealed verdict

The case has been one of intense interest Courthouse Cullings.

Judge Lumpkin will adjourn his court during the meeting of the state bar association. He has not formally made the announcement as yet, but it is understood that such will be his action. Judge Van Epps and Judge Westmoreland will adjourn court during the association meeting.

In Judge Westmoreland's court yesterday a verdict for the plaintiff was found in the case of Miller against the city for damages to real estate, because of grading. The amount of the verdict was $450.

In the suit of C. Jordan against A. H Vandyke a verdict in the sum of $370 principal, and $69.88 interest, was given the plaintiff. It was a suit on a note.

In the suit of McRae against Beath a verdict of $116 was given the plaintiff. Jo-seph Farrell secured a verdict of $67 against W. H. Jentzen.

He says ! n't believe there is a democrat in state who desires a silver dollar to worth less than a gold dollar. Speak for the free colnage democrats of country, The Constitution can very tily say that they do not want a er dollar to be worth less than any er kind of a dollar. But they believe at when the mints are reopened to free coinage of silver the resultan increased demand for the white netal for use among the people, or as a asis for paper notes -will increase its alue until it circulates on a parity with

Those who assert to the contrary have ing but an assumption to sustain eir view, and not even that, for it is rell known that the mints of France ing a period of eighty years, kept the ercial ratio of the two metals at a non level-kept it so when more er was produced than gold, and when e gold was produced than silver. he variation in the ratio was chronicled the rate of exchange between Paris nd London, and if this variation is th nothing at all in taking account this great question, the fact ought mentioned that the ratio between lish and American gold lacks a great eal of being on a "parity." should this condition exist? It of "the rate of exchange," but means nothing more nor less at there is a premium on gold in e market or the other. The term is calculated to befuddle the minds of those who have never studied the financial question; but it is perfectly clear to those who have taken the trouble to investi gate the matter.

Colonel Morrison goes on to say that gold and silver, as money, should be equal in value for purposes of trade and commerce and the payment of debts. and this is precisely the position of the free coinage democrats. They believe that the open mints would bring about these conditions, and that the two metals, under a free coinage law, would make the debt-paying power of each equal to that of the other. So far so good, but Colonel Morrison goes farther and says that he wants to ee a broader basis for actual money than that which would be furnished by either one of the metals; and he adds that one metal alone will not be sufficient.

In these things he is at one with the free coinage men of the country. His platform is as broad as that on which the people thought the democratic party stood in 1892. The men at the head of affairs refused to carry out the terms of that emphatic declaration, but the people who placed them in power are still in favor of the opinions therein enunciated. To catch their attention the party will have to be more emphatic than ever. It will have to flavor its declarations by the selection of a candidate who is known to be heartily in favor of each and every one of them. Otherwise it will be useless to nominate candidates in 1896.

The Last Cuban Rebellion.

In 1868 the Cubans made an effort to secure their independence, and their struggle lasted about ten years. They were not defeated, but were induced to yield by promises of reform, which the Spanish government has never carried out, and this fact is the leading cause of the present formidable revolution.

In the last rebellion Cespedes started with a force of 147 men, and in two days he was at the head of an army of 4,000. In a month he had 12,000 men and had captured several important towns.

In the first three years Spain sent 100,000 soldiers to the island and eightytwo armed vessels, and yet the insurgents were able to hold their own. At the end of three years the Spaniards had lost 68,000 men against 13,000 on the Cuban side in battle, but it should be stated that 43,000 Cubans were arrested, many of whom were shot and many of whom died in prison, The Spaniards murdered thousands without regard to Mexico and the South American republics recognized the Cubans as belligerents, and in this country a Cuban league was organized with the governors of all the states except one as vice presidents. Among the atrocities committed by the Spaniards was the murder of twelve students who were charged with desecrating the grave of a Spanish writer. The Spaniards also captured the Virginius, which sailed under United States colors to aid the insurgents, and fifty-three of the crew and passengers vere shot at Santiago, including the ommander, Captain Fry. Others would have been shot but for the threat of the captain of a British gunboat to bombard the city.

The present rebellion appears to be even more promising than the one in 1868, and it is doubtful whether Spain can send a force strong enough to suppress it.

Draw the Line Somewhere. The New Orleans Picayune has the following:

They are talking more or less abou women as motorneers and conductors for the trolley cars in the northern cities. There can be no doubt that so far as taking the fares are concerned women could do it quite as well as any man, and it is urged that there would be less beating of the companies in the way of knocking down fares. But there are many other things to be considered. Conductors have to pre-serve order on their cars as well as collect the fares, and they have all sorts of roughs and toughs to deal with. Then there is the necessity of remaining on their feet for long hours at a time, which physicians tell us no woman is capable of. Besides, in case of emergencies and dangers, there is a call for more nerve and self-possession than the average woman is possessed of. There are many fields where women may compete th men, even to an advantage, but the street car business is not one of them. The friends of the new woman mean well, but they are in danger of losing their heads. Every man with a grain of common sense knows that the street car business is not a good occupation for women. There is no use in going to extremes in this matter. Hundreds of thousands, indeed millions, of women will find room as teachers, writers, bookkeepers, clerks, notaries, doctors, seamstresses, merchants, printers, etc., and it is not necessary to push them into occupations which can be better con ducted by men.

We are in favor of giving the new voman a wide field, but she does not need the entire field. A few rough corners should be reserved for men. If women are to be street car conductors and motorneers, and sheriffs, like a woman out in Missouri, they might as well enlist in the army and navy. Let us draw the line somewhere.

Postmaster's Day.

One of the biggest days in prospect during the Cotton States and International exposition will be that devoted to the postmasters of the country.

The suggestion for a day devoted to the postmasters came from Mr. Willian H. Miller, postmaster at Pell City, Ala. His suggestion was that not only would such an occasion be made a pleasant one for all concerned, but that it would have a great influence in raising the esprit de corps among those who handle the mails. The gathering together of these men would spur them with a uniformity of purpose and a rivalry in the performance of duties that could not fail to be of great benefit in improving the postal service. Especially would this be so should the postmaster general be there to receive them, and when prominent officials in the service could be present to suggest plans for the improvement of the carrying and the delivery of the public mails: Vice President Hemphill has taken up the suggestion of Mr. Miller, and will inaugurate the plan for bringing to gether the postmasters of the country The Constitution thoroughly indorses the idea, and predicts for Postmasters' day one of the greatest successes of the exposition. The presence of Postmaster General Wilson, aside from his official station, will make the day not only of a national character, but memorable in effect.

The exposition directors cannot do better than to give this scheme their urgent indorsement, and see that it is carried through

The Truth About the South. The New York World says of the admirable Atlanta letters written by its special correspondent, Mr. James Creelman: The reports of the Atlanta exposition sent The World by Mr. James Creelman are cal culated to surprise those who look upon the south as a region inhabited by people whose principal industry is the handling of deadly weapons. It is strange that such impressions should of time, in spite of newspapers and tele graphs, there are those who think of the onditions of the earlier years of the slavery struggle, when Mississippi was a state of the far western border. In the minds of such people the south is a place where Bowie still carries his knife in his boot and where it is unsafe to go abroad with-out a weapon. Every story of crime from the wild and almost uninhabited region of the southern Alleghanies is taken as evidence that law and order, industry and progress do not exist at the south.

Mr. Creelman's dispatches tell of a south wholly different from the conceptions of its enemies, or even of its lukewarm friends. It is a region filled with people who have shown indomitable energy in overcoming difficulties; who are moved by restless desire for progress; who are keen in the search for opportunities and quick in improving them.

The "old south" was a country of "plantations" and "estates." The new is developing into a land of farms and factories. It is not dwelling on its past, but is working steadily to achieve its future—a future in which it expects to be a permanent facor in the progress and prosperity of the whole country.

Mr. Creelman and the other special correspondents at the exposition are doing good work in correcting misrepresentations, exploding false ideas and turning a search-light upon the whole southern situation.

The south for many years has been unfortunate in the character of the views furnished the outside newspapers. Strangers have been promptly notified of anything that was to our disadvantage in the shape of lawlessness, unthrift and mistaken methods, but it is only recently that they have heard the story of our industrial development, the building up of our section, the economy of the people and the spread of liberal ideas among the masses. The correspondents at the exposition are studying the conditions of the new south, and we have no doubt that they will very largely revolutionize outside opinion. As The World says, this section is developing into a land of farms and factories, and it goes without saying that in a community made up of such interests the pistol-tote a back number, the shotgun is in disrepute and Judge Lynch's rope is in deservedly unpopular. The south has left the unsettled conditions of the reconstruction period far behind her, and her citizens are anxious to uphold the law and maintain peace and order as any other people in the land. If any prooof of this is demanded it may be found in the influx of northern capital and enterprise, and the fact that immigrants stay here and align themselves with our people.

A Purity Congress

Baltimore will have on the 14th, 15th and 16th of October the most unique congress of the year. It will be the annual meeting of the American Purity Alliance, and it will be addressed by such distinguished men and women as Mrs. Helen H. Gardner, Mrs. Alice C. Robinson, of Baltimore; Hon. Elbridge T. Gerry, Julia Ward Howe, Mary A. Livermore, Anthony Comstock, Frances E. Willard, Rev. A. H. Lewis, Mrs. J. H. Kellogg and Professor O. E. Janney.

The object of the congress is to induce all the states to pass laws for the protection of girls. What is wanted is a law which will raise the age of consent so that no girl under eighteen can consent to her own ruin. It is complained that some of the states are very lax in this matter. In three states girls may consent at the age of ten, and in Delaware at the age of seven. Four states now put the age at twelve years, three at thirteen, twenty at fourteen, two at fifteen, twelve at sixteen, one at seven teen and two at eighteen.

The delegates will also advocate ar equal standard of morality for both exes. Of course the questions discussed will be of the most delicate nature, but these days there seems to be a growing tendency on the part of brainy men and women to bring such questions to the front and discuss them in public.

It is to be hoped that the congress will accomplish much good. In fact, it may be said that it will require an abundant harvest of good results to counterac the evil of a public discussion of practically forbidden subjects by a mixed assembly of both sexes.

Important if True.

It is reported in New York that there are 500 cases of leprosy in the city, and there is naturally some excitemen about it.

The secretary of the board of health however, has somewhat pacified the public with the statement that in our climate there is no real necessity fo the isolation of a genuine case of leprosy He says that the prejudice against lener is largely due to the Bible instruction cerning their treatment. If this statement is true it will quie the apprenensions of those who fear the introduction of leprosy by the immigrants from the orient. But is it true?

The Cuban Patriots.

C., the other day over the arrest and trial of the Cuban sympathizers serves to give the people a pointer as to the feelings of the American public, The Cuban struggle means something It means that the patriots on that island are determined to rid themselves of the oppressive tyranny of Spanish rule, if sympathy is with the Cubans in their struggle. They are striving for what our own people strove for in the days of the revolution, and they deserve to be encouraged by such patriotic spirit as Americans can still muster.

All manifestations of this sympathy are met by the cry of "jingoism" uttered by the Godkins and others who misrepre sent the American national spirit, but we think that when congress meets the temper and attitude of the people will be strongly displayed. The Cubans must have a fighting chance. They must be recognized as belligerents.

Bound to See the Exposition. The public schools of Anderson, Ind. have decided to visit our exposition. They will come in a special train about November 15th, and there will be about 600 in the party. The Anderson schools make trips of this kind a part of their course. Their last trip was to the Alleghanies, the seashore and Washington, and next summer they will go to the Yellowstone, Denver and the Rocky mountains. The example of these progressive schools might well be followed by other schools all over the country. The bright youngsters who spend a few days at our exposition will receive an inspiration and an impulse that will be felt all through their lives. Many of the artists, inventors and developers of the future will be frank enough to say that what started them on the road to success. The pupils of the Anderson schools will find that the young people here, and the old people too, will do their best to make their sojourn pleasant.

Don't Miss It.

The thousands of our people who have been waiting for a cool wave will make a rush today for the exposition.

It will be the best day since the opening. Things are in good shape, and it will be delightful on the grounds. Tonight the fireworks will be superb, and the storming of Wei-Hai-Wei will be more picturesque than the battle itself. The illumination Thursday night was but a foretaste of what will be seen tonight. The electric circuits are all completed and the towers, dom's, roofs, gobles and cornices of the buildings, as well as the hilltops, will be a dazzling blaze of glory. The electric fountain will probably be turned on tonight, and It is safe to promise a scene of splendor and magnificence surpassing anything at the world's fair.

Go out today and tonight. The weather is perfect, and there should be 50,000 people on the grounds. Take a holiday and enjoy a royal outing!

The great question of the hour is, can Mr. Corbett knock out Fitz's lion? The Cuban movement seems to be deadly as it is surprising to the Spanish. A good many presidential candidates will feel the cold wave which got lost in the Chicago hot belt. John Sherman's red barn was not built to entertain the republican delegates from the south. This will account for the fact that John was never a candidate. The Washington Post treats John De-Witt Warner as an "enemy" of Mr. Cleveland; but this manifestation occurs in its humorous column-which is the proper Harter wants to come down off the tariff question.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

There is a strong sentiment in Mexico favoring Cuban annexation. A newspaper printed in the City of Mexico, apparently in a semi-official way, declares that Mex ico "has need of Cuba." It says that "every argument of race, tradition and lan-guage favors Cuba as a Mexican state rather than an American territory.' Cuba as an ocean outpost, Mexico could build up a great navy and become a formidable power both on sea and land. This is the plea for Cuban annexation. The special correspondent of The New Orleans Picayune writes from Atlanta: "I believe that the opening day of the Atlanta exposition will be considered a white stone erected along the line of the south's march of progress, and that the inauguration of the exposition is the beginning of a period of industrial activity, building, advancement, investment and prosperity "No man springing up since the war-born too late to be shot at Shiloh, or wounded at Chickamauga—did more for Atlanta, for Georgia, and for the south than Henry W. Grady. He seemed to grapple correctly with the southern prob-lems, and by his eloquence to give the people of the north thoughts and reflections which have done a great deal to eliminate sectional feeling, to bring about a better appreciation of southern conditions, and to show our northern friends that here in the south the hills and valleys invite capi-tal and developing enterprises. I make this reference to Grady principally because his memory, dear to every Atlantian, was held so at the opening exercises in the au-ditorium. A piece entitled the 'Salute to Atlanta,' composed for the occasion by Herbert, leader of Gilmore's band, and dedicated to Grady's memory, was the initial feature of the programme.

The Boston Herald has the following refrenee to an incident connected with the recent meeting of Colonel W. A. Hemphill and General Fairchild on our blue and gray day: "The hand that pinned a confederate veteran's badge on the bosom of General Lucius Fairchild, of Wisconsin, last week had not been palsted at last accounts, though that was the treatment recommended by General Fairchild for such brotherly conduct only a year ago."

The New York Advertiser applauds General Longstreet's Monroe doctrine speech and says: "That is the kind of 'rebel yell' that the American people like to hear. In that sort of 'rebel yell' the north will join as heartily as the south. The Dublin Courier says of the opening of the exposition:

The Cherokee Advance gives this advice to its readers: "Do not fail to go to the exposition. I will cost you very little and will be worth a great deal to you."

The Rochelle Solid South says of the exposition:

The Sunday Constitution.

From The Meriwether, Ga., Vindicator. Twenty years ago a four page daily paper as large as The Vindicator was a pride and luxury. Now The Atlanta Constitution prints a mammoth fifty page paper for a single day. It has reading enough to make a great book. All this mass of first-class literature, pages of eloquent speeches, history of current events, political leaders, society news, magazine reading, stories, illustrations, comic cuts and a thousand other things, miscellaneous and otherwise, are launched forth upon an unsuspecting, unoffending public for a single day's reading! By the end of the century, if The Constitution keeps its progressive stride, we may expect each day's issue to be a whole circulating library of news, wit and wisdom. We fear we shall aim will be to make it still befter. It have to quit the daily Constitution, for lead we can't read half the good things it prints each day.

The South's Exposition.

From The New York Sun.
Governor Morton is reported as expressing himself amazed that a city like Atlanta has been able to carry through to success an enterprise of the magnitude and com-prehensiveness of the southern exposition, now commanding the admiration of every

The growth of Atlanta itself into a city capable of conceiving and perfecting such an undertaking is amazing, but it is not so surprising as the enterprise which in the short period of twenty years only has de veloped the industries and pushed forward the whole civilization of the south. The southern states came out of the civil war with their social organization disturbed and almost disrupted, with the spirits of the people crushed, with poverty prevailing, and the system of industry confused.

In the south everything had to be builded Its cotton crop, anew after the war. which had been toward five million bales in 1860, fell to a little more than two millions in 1866 and in 1867, and it was not until 1876 that it reached the quantity of the year before the war. During the ten years succeeding the restoration of peace its progress was repressed by political agen-cies and methods hardly less crushing to orderly enterprise than war itself had been; but as soon as these were removed, the south started up and marched forward with the energy and elasticity of a youthful people, fresh and buoyant. In 1891 and 1892 it raised cotton crops twice as great as the largest it had produced previous to the war. Its established industries generally grew with equal rapidity, and it introduced man new departments and varieties of produc tion which were developed with astonishing esults. For the first time in its history began to discover or to get some conception of the richness of its natural resources and it went to work to utilize them with the tireless energy of pioneers.

One consequence is that today the most prosperous part of the union is the south. It has done so well that it is dissatisfied because it has not yet attained all the prosperity it sees is in the future. It has the mpatience of youth?

A chief source of good fortune for the south is in its labor, from which both it and its critics expected so much evil. It has in the negroes a laboring population which has been removed from the operation of the causes which elsewhere have dis-turbed labor so seriously. The negroes like the south and the southern people. With comparatively few exceptions they have remained and increased in the southern states. Attempts to colonize them elsewhere have been unsuccessful. Almost universally they prefer to stay where they are. They are by nature a contented people, docile and affectionate. They are entitled to a large share in the glory of the development of the south, and it was just that in this southern exposition at Atlanta and at its opening they should have the prominent place allotted to them.

The south is now only in the beginning of its progress. It is taking the first steps merely in a forward march which in twenty years to come will have carried it so far beyond where it now is that its present advancement will seem slight comparatively. states. Attempts to colonize them else resources whose development requires population so much greater than they no have that when the knowledge of the oportunity extends and is made inviting a southern enterprise immigration will positive replicit.

ETCHED AND SKETCHED.

whose opinions I would like to hear concerning the strange hings that are done and seen in the Midway at the exposition," remarked a prominent Georgian yesterday. "Now, we have had sone of the dignitaries and celebrities of the land out there and we have heard what they had to say about the fun that is to be had dong this curious avenue. We have had omnions from the governors who were here from various states the other day; ve have seen John Jacob Astor, the multi-millionaire, on the 'middy,' and we have had many others whose names are known over the entire continent. But, as I was going on to say, there are just two men in the country now whose opinions of the Midway would be thrillingly lateresting to me, and those men are ex-Chie! Justice Logan E. Bleckley and Dr. Hawthorne. I would like to hear Judge Bleckley tell of the legal side of the Midway, bringing out all the little delicate points of law which he is so adept in fathoming, and mingling with his ruling on the case all that wit and humer with which his soul abounds. I venture to assert that when Judge Bleckley does visit the Midway—which he surely wil do no doubt-he will have a fund of funny stories that would supply a book. On the other hand, I venture to say Dr. Haw-thorne could visit the Midway and come away with material for thundering ser-mons for weeks to come. View it in a serious vein, and who wouldn't be glad to hear the opinions of these two distinguished and gifted men of the day about so novel a scene as is presented on Midway Heights every day? It would be instructive and en-

Like a great big boy, the jolly band director, always in for fun, took his walking cane and with it began to wave all the music out of those darkies that could possibly be extracted. They could not play any of Herbert's own

Schubert's Serenade," etc., but they could play "Mamie, Come Kiss Your Honey Boy."

"Down in Mobile" and a thousand similar airs and the bohemians fairly took in the town with Victor Herbert and his band Correspondent Creelman, of The New York World, has left Atlanta for a few days. He went to Columbia, S. C., yesterday to make a study of the state constitu tional convention for his own benefit. He will probably visit the North Carolina mountains before he returns to Atlanta. Mr. Henry S. Jackson, of the Southern Railway Company, stationed in Atlanta, re-furned yesterday from a business trip to his old home at Nashville, and speaking of Nashville's interest in the exposition, Mr.

Jackson says:

"I was in Nashville on Wednesday and Thursday and had several interviews with the officials of the Tennessee centennial and with Mr. Ernest W. Pillow, the president of the Tennessee state senate, representing Governor Turney, in regard proper measures for representation at the Cotton States and International exposition on Tennessee Day-October 5th. I worked up a good deal of enthusiasm among the officials and private citizens at Nashville nd they have at once set on foot plans to make a grand display on Tennessee Day. They are proposing to bring the governor, his staff, all of the officials of the Tennessee centennial and about a thousand of the state troops from Nashville; also several companies, mercantile bodies, etc., from Chattanooga, Knoxville and Memphis and it is their idea, after reaching here on the morning of the 5th, to form in proces-sion about 10 o'clock and march out to the exposition grounds. I find that the people of Tennessee are taking a great deal of interest in the Atlanta exposition, and it is a matter not only of sisterly state pride with them, but also a matter of pride on account of their own forthcoming centennial, that they want to make a big display here on Tennessee Day.' "I have often heard of strange methods adopted by ministers to collect money at churches, but I never heard of any more weird than the step taken by a colored preacher down in middle Georgia the other day," remarked a well known Georgian yesterday. "The sermon was over, and the congregation sighed with relief at the prospect of getting me soon to get their dinners. But the preacher said the church needed a certo pay certain expenses, and he said he didn't intend to let the congregation get away without raising it. The money was due and the members of the church owed it to the Lord, he said, to pay the debt.

"He ordered a collection of subscriptions but before delay, the he and the destructions with the control of the church owed." but before doing this he had all the doors barred and fastened the windows. He de-clared that he did not intend to let the brethren get out until every cent of that money was in hand or the value thereof in chickens, butter or eggs. "On the first count it was found that $1.65 was the pile. After singing another song and offering another prayer, another sub-scription was taken and the amount went to 10 cents over $2. There was another round of prayer and song and the subscription went up only a few cents more. After going through this process several times the amount was finally raised, but it was sundown before many of the darkies got home that afternoon, having four or five miles to drive." "We have a flower in Mexico that is so fragrant that it isn't safe to sleep in a room with it," said Senor Gonzales, commissioner at the exposition from Mexico, yesterday. "It is the gardenia, which is a beautiful white flower something like a rose, and yet like a magnolia, and is round like a rose, though it hasn't so many leaves as a rose. It is perfectly white and the perfume is interest. The recovery in Yeta. perfume is intense. The groves in Vera Cruz, where the flowers abound so, can be cruz, where the nowers abound so, can be scented several miles away at night when the air is mild. There was a very cad death caused by the flowers not long before I left Mexico. A young lady received a bouquet of them from her sweetheart. She put them in her room at night and went to s'eep. As to the Sunday Closing.

There was suppressed excitement yesterday among those who know on the question of Sunday opening and it became whispered about early in the day that this would be taken up yesterday afternoon at the session of the executive committee.

'his is the topic of chief interest just now to the Midway concessionaires. They are howling for Sunday opening. Their howl, it is said, has reached the ears of some of the most influential officials, and they have the most influential officials, and they have taken heed to such an extent as to promise concessionaires and they are heated in the "I have the perfect right to sell those books at any place on the grounds," said one of the concessionaires yesterday afternoon, "and no one can prevent me. I have the sole concession. My contract does not read that the boys in red jackets shall be excluded from the art building. There is nothing like that in there. Today I shall place two boys inside and make a test case. It may be a harsh offense to the artistic taste of the more aesthetic, but I have my rights, and shall stick to them." Antipodeans They.

These eyes opened in wide wonderment yesterday af-ternoon when four savages from Dahomey ternoon when four savages from Danomey trotted up in front of the government building, with something like a hammock suspended from the poles on their heads and a bearded man in a Stanley costume seated comfortably in the middle. The savages were attired a la mode, with the beadwork tattooing across their brawny breasts, and the loins zirded scantily, Their hair stood out in matted shocks and they panted like horses when the man in the nammock grunted out the command to stop before the entrance of the building.

The blue eyes of the maiden from Ken tucky had stretched. It was a novel sight, But there was a spectacle still more nevel to come. With a sudden determination the young lady gathered her skirts and tripped cannibal. She made a motion toward the hammock and asked if she could ride. The savages looked at each other, grinned gro-tesquely and grunted.

"Oh, do let me ride," and another smile came from the blue grass maid.

A Brilliant Occasion.

Chevalier A. Macchi has named October 5th for the formal opening of the foreign exhibitors, and for that day a brilliant programme has been arranged.

Invitations will be extended to the directors and officials of the exposition company, the woman's board, the city officials and citizens of prominence. The manufactures and liberal arts hall, in which the foreign exhibits are placed, will be the scene of the opening. Speeches will be made by different representatives of various countries. Refreshments will be served. Altogether the occasion will be most de

CAUSED BY CAMELS.

Commissioner Spalding's Horse Bolted Yesterday Morning.

For several days past Commission Spalding has mounted his plebald Texas pony, thrust his spurs into the flanks of his steed and urged him into a gentle amble towards a road near the exposition grounds where the county convicts are at work. Following this custom, Commissioner Spalding rode to the place yesterday morn-ing. The work was well under way. Suddenly the Texas pony began to tremble violently. In the words of the commis-sioner, who told of it afterwards, it looked as if the animal was trying to shake the spots off—a feat which biblical lore suggests is beyond the limit of the possible.

Commissioner Spalding was in actual danger. His friends regard it as a sure sign of re-election.

Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter. New York, September 27.—(Special.)—Whatever disposition toward a reaction in cotton might have existed this morning was promptly checked by the extraordina ry advance of 10 sixty-fourths in Liverpool ry advance of 10 sixty-fourths in Liverpool. Our market opened with wild buying and a further rise. The first sale of January was at 8.83, but in a very short time the prices had climoed to 8.92. The fluctuations of the day, which were rapid and incessant, were witnin 8.82 and 8.92 as extremes and were absolutely and exclusively ruled by the character of the orders that kept pouring in. The liquidation was enormous, but the market evidently wanted all the cotton that was offered at any concession, and the close was steady with 8.00 till for January. In such a market it would be mere guesswork to predict whether prices will react tomorrow or gostill higher. It will largely depend on the temper of Liverpool. We still advise our friends, who have paper profits in sight, to turn them into cash without hesitation. We do not, however, recommend snort sales. Whatever the course of the market in the immediate future, we think it likely that prices will sooner or later go higher yet and upon all good breaks we would still be inclined to buy.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter. New York, September 27.-Liverpool opened active with sales of 15,000 bales. Middling uplands 411-16; last year 317-32. Futures were steady at 4½-64 advance and Middling uplands 411-16; last year 317-32. Futures were steady at 4½-64 advance and during the day advanced 4½-32 more, closing very firm. September-October 4.44½, last year 3.25. Our market opened with sales of 8.85-86 and advanced 8.91. At 1 p. m. 8.89. The excitement in Liverpool brought about an advance thereof 9-64d on arrival of cotton, the continued wild buying by spinners and southern operators. Our cables state that the reports of the failure of the Syrian Mr. Sarsock was incorrect, as his purchases on Monday placed him upon the long side. Spinners are now satisfied that the crop is a short one and they are buying largely, especially the English spinners, who are notoriously the worst merchants in the world, buying always at the top and selling at the bottom. When the writer was in Liverpool they were selling cotton short at 64x despite the bad crop accounts, now they are buying at 8%c. The market here today has not shown the strength of the past few days 3nd the supply has been more in appearance than the new buyers. Commission houses after an advance of 3½c are disposed to advise caution until the effect of the movement of the crop is felt. The market during the afternoon felt the weight of some long cotton on which the holders wished to realize on account of the large receipts at the interior towns. The tone of the market has been distinctly quieter than yesterday. Receipts at the interior towns. The tone of the market has been distinctly quieter than yesterday. Receipts at the interior towns. There was more inquiry for consumption, the sales reaching 743 bales; middling uplands 8½; last year 67-16; middling gulf 9½; last year 6 80-31.

The Sun's Cotton Review.

New York, September 27.—Cotton rose 17 o 18 points and then reacted and closed steady at a net rise of the day of 10 to 12 steady at a net rise of the day of 10 to 12 points, with sales of 278,000 bales. New Orleans rose 16 points and there lost about half of this. Liverpool advanced 1-32d on the spot with sales of 15,000 bales, making 60,000 in three days; futures advanced 19½60 Il points, then reacted and closed at a net rise of 9½ to 10 points, with the tone very firm. Manchester was very strong for yarns, but the higher prices for cloths checked business. Spot prices advanced %c at August, ¼c at Charleston, Wilmington, Norfolk and St. Louis, 3-15c at Mobile and ½c at Memphis, Baltimore and New York. New Orleans receipts tomorrow are estimated at 5,000 to 6,000, against 3,609 last Saturday and 12,426 last year.
Today's Features—New York followed Liverpool where the advance was very marked, and where moreover the spot business and the speculation continued on a large scale. There was very heavy buying here for local, southern and European account and prives arvanced of leaps and bounds. The crop movement was liberal and gefferal rains are reported in Texas, while some think the rapid advance in prices will check buying by spinners in this country, who will find it difficult to points, with sales of 278,000 bales. New Or while some think the rapid advance in prices will check buying by spinners in this country, who will find it difficult to make calculations for business in print cloths. But whatever may be said against the market, not forgetting the promiscuous buying by outsiders, who might liquidate on the smallest alarm, the fact remains that the market closed steady at a substantial rise for the day, in spite of epormous liquidation. Liverpool was ramplant after being phlegmatic for many weeks, and it was Liverpool that set the pace today. Not a few of the buils have liquidated of late and are waiting for a reaction in order to take hold again.

Daniel O'Dell & Co.'s Cotton Letter. New York, September 27 .- Continued ac tivity in Liverpool and buying here on a very large scale, both for American and livily in Liverpool and buying nere on a very large scale, both for American and European accounts, caused an advance in the early transactions of 18 points. Within two days Liverpool has risen equal to 35 points in our money. In view of very rapid advance of late we think it behooves operators to be cautious; prices have advanced so rapidly that spinners purchases of the actual cotton are likely to be temporarily restricted. They constantly take contracts for print cloths freely because of the phenomenal rise in the price of raw cotton which leaves them in a position of some uncertainty as to the future of values. Furthermore considerable of the speculative buying of futures just now is by operators who usually buy only after a big advance, and experience shows that such a long interest is apt to liquidate quickly on the slightest indication of weakness in prices. Sardis, Miss., telegraphed: "Good deal of cotton opened and being picked, probably 50 per cent short." Augusta. Ga., telegraphed: "Cotton being rushed to market as a result of a recent advance." The Georgia state crop report says that cotton has opened rapidly; that there is a decrease in shedding and rust, and that picking is well advanced. Cotton in the pinteywoods section is short but a fair yield will be made. Liverpool advanced 1-52d on the spot and 10-64 to 11-64d for future delivery, closing very firm. The spot sales there today were 15,000 bales; tout for the week 101,000, including 88,000 American; amount forwarded to spinners 65,000. Manchester was very firm: New Orleans advanced 16 points and then reacted 9 points from top figures. General rains were reported in Texas and spot prices advanced 4c at New York, Baltimore and Memphis 3-16c, at Mobile ½c, at Charleston, Wilmington, Norfolk and St. Louis and %c at Augusta. Interior receipts for the week were estimated at 100,000, against 77,000 last week and 164,291 last year. New Orleans receipts tomorrow 6,000 of 6,500, against 12,425 last year. We still think cotton is likely to go higher bef European accounts, caused an advance in

New Orleans, September 27.—Secretary Hester's New Orleans cotton exchange statement from September 1st to September 27th inclusive:

Port receipts 298,676 bales, against 441,613 last vear, 289,739 year before last and 333,944 for the same time in 1892; overland to mills and Canada 7,498, against 22,542, 13,877 and 24,839; interior stocks in excess of September 1st 54,761, against 49,966, 51,649 and 46,466; southern mill takings 72,999, against 64,908, 55,026 and 55,026; crop brought into sight during the first 27 days of September 423,025, against 578,969, 410,282 and 460,456; crop brought into sight for the week 192,746, against 243,726 for the seven days ended September 27th last year, 195,829 year before last and 177,791 for the same time in 1892. Comparisons in these reports are made up to the corresponding date last year, year before last and in 1892 and not to the close of the corresponding week. Comparisons by weeks would take in 28 days of the season last year, 29 year before last and 30 days in 1892, against only 27 days this year.

The Dry Goods Trade.

New York, September 21.—There has been no change in the character of the dry goods market for cotton goods today. The outstanding feature is the strength of all staple lines and the difficulty which buyers experience in placing orders for anything not actually in stock. There has been but a quiet demand for cotton dress fabrics of any kind and reports of the jobbing trade here and elsewhere, although somewhat better than a week ago, show generally quiet conditions at first hands.

Chicago, September 27 .- From the man ner in which buying started in this morn-ing it was generally expected that the record of the day's doings in the market would show a gain of some improvement in prices, but quite the contrary was the re-sult. First quotations were from % above the final ones of yesterday, at the local crowd playing for a sharp advance. Al most at the outset, however, buyers met with enormous offerings, a decline im-mediately taking place. New Yorkers were selling here and foreigners were selling in their market. St. Louis had wheat on sale and it was but a short time until local longs chapged their attitude. Liverpool quotations were higher, but private ad vices from that place gave decidedly bearish opinions on the market. Within an hopr of the close the crowd led by a prominent scalper turned bullish and worked prices back to about yesterday's closing figures. December wheat opened from 61½ to 61½, declined to 60%, closing at 61½ bid, ½c higher than yesterday. Cash wheat was easy, but closed nominally steady. Corn was again dull to the verge of neglect. No news of any moment and no orders of consequence reached the pit and traders found their motive for advancing or depressing prices in the action of wheat. May corn opened from 29% to 29%, declined to 29%, closing at 29%, %c under yesterday. Cash corn ruled steady. Oats were again lifeless, prices hanging around one quotation most of the day. No strengthening or weakening effect was felt to the extent of more than a fraction. May oats closed a shade lower than yesterday. Cash oats sold at unchanged prices. Provisions—Shorts in October pork, lard and ribs found it interesting but not profit able to buy that delivery today. Many were changing over into January, but a considerable number were pocketing losses. The strength in the hog market started the advance and the anxiety of traders to cover kept prices on the upgrade. At the close October pork was 27½c higher than yesterday, October lard 12½c higher and October ribs 22½c higher. Leading futures:

Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter.
Chicago, September 27.—The wheat market today has been very active and outside business has been the largest for some time. The upward tendency of prices, notwithstanding sharp reactions, is beginning to attract the attention of the country, which, coupled with the buying by large easters parties who have been noted on the buil side of cotton, renders good support on all declines. Holders, however, appear disposed to take their profits and thus offerings on sharp advances are very free. This was the case today. The market at the opening was strong at an advance of per bushel over last night, but traders who went bome last night long had their wheat for sale, which, together with free offerings on the part of Cudahy and other professionais, caused a steady decline of nearly 1½c per bushel.

After this selling had subsided the market became firm, advancing ¾c, which was later lost on the very light clearances, only 76,000 bushels of wheat and flour.

Toward the close good buying set in again, the market closing strong and ¾c hyber than last evening. The liberal flour output reported yesterday in the northwest was confirmed today, sales in Minneapolis amounting to 500,000 barrels. St. Louis reported a good cash demand from the south, with sales of about 90,000 bushels. Northwestern receipts begin to show some falling off, being ¾i care, against № 15 last year. Stocks in Liverpool are reported about 1,500,000 bushels larger than a year ago, but the amount on passage is something like 3,000,000 bushels less. Cables do not display the strength noted in our market, but it is quite possible the foreigners will follow us if we continue to advance. While our market is still under the influence of local trading its broadening out. The advance seems more substantial than at any time since it recently started, yet it is hazardous to predict an opinion on if the scalping feature still predominates. Coarse grains closed a trifle under yesterday. Trading was very light and confined almost entirely to wheat. Provisions scored a good advance along the whole line, pork selling up 27½c per barrel, lard and ribs 7½ to 12½c per 100 pounds. There were free oerings early of ribs by a commission house, but packers later came in and bought heavily, which was the cause of the strength. Reports of hog cholera are gaining strength.

The southern Kappa Alpha fraternity which has been in convention here for the past several days, adjourned yesterday after several most pleasant sessions.

All of the old officers were re-elected without opposition, and to nothing that was done was there a suggestion of dissent from any one. The following named gentlemen are the officers of the southern fraternity Kappa Alpha for the ensuing Knight commander, S. Z. Ammen, The Baltimore Sun; grand historian, T. T. Hubbard, of Norfolk, Virginia; grand purser, A. Benners; chairman of the elec; toral committee, W. S. Hamilton.

The splendid work of these officers for re-election and the affairs of the frutern'ty have been intrusted into their care with the knowledge that they will be weil looked after, and every interest of the society sealously and jealously guarded. No higher commendation could be given a set

The last meeting of the fraternity cocur red yesterday morning in the parlors of the Young Men's Christian Association The members were called to crler at 9 o'clock. There remained but very little business to transact. There were several resolutions of thanks adopted. Reso lutions thanking the Young Men's Christian Association and the members of the local alumni were adopted amid applause.

Immediately after the meeting the members strolled in a body to the state capitol, where they posed for a photograph. The incident was a pleasing one, and the Kappa Alphas enjoyed the entire trip. The paotographic incident completed, the Kappa Alphas met at the Equitable building and bearded a double truck special ca. for a trip over the entire system of the Consolidated. It was enjoyed to the tip ost, and at every corner the Kappa Alphas startled the residents with their college cries and fraternity shouts.

This was not to end the festivities. The special car went to the exposition grounds where a delightful luncheon had been trepared for the fraternity. The hospitality of the Driving club was extended to the fraternity, so the generosity of the treat-ment received by the Kappa Alphas is y imagined. A number of speeches made and there were several informal Colonel John Temple Graves, who wa booked for a speech at the Kimball during the banquet, but who was unavoidably absent, was enthusiastically called upon for a speech. He responded in his rappi-est vein and for a number of minutes charmed his listeners by his eloquence. Colonel Graves was followed in short talks by J. B. Keeble, editor of The Kappa Alpha Journal; C. L. Anderson, president of the local chapter, and A. Benners, grand purser of the fraternity. Luncheon and speeches over, the mem-bers dispersed after three cheers for the might commander, S. Z. Ammen. Midway proved an irresistible attraction for many of the Kappa Alphas, and last warious amusements that line the Midway leights boulevard.

Mr. L. S. Boyd, of Auburn, Ala., expressed the sentiment of all the members when he said:

"Our meeting has been both a splendid one and a successful one. We have been treated with royal hospitality and too much cannot be said of the fine work of the local Kappa Alphas. Not a feature went amiss, and every visitor has been made thoroughly comfortable and has been well taken care of. As to the exposition—it is the success that we expected oe, and I for one am not disappointed that the exhibits were not all installed."

COMMERCIAL MEN'S CONGRESS Will Hold a National Congress Here

in November. There will be a big meeting of local commercial men at the Kimball tonight to make arrangements for Commercial Men's day at the exposition. The date of Commercial Men's day has been changed from October 18th to November 18th. It will be one of the great days of the exposition. It will be a national affair. Commercial men from every state in the union and from every city of importance in the country will be present. The governor of each state has been asked to appoint ten prepresentative commercial. to appoint ten representative commercial men from his state to attend the conven-tion. This will give it the high tone which those behind the movement are anxious that it shall have that it shall have. The deliberations of the commercial men's congress to be held on that day will be of far-reaching importance. Their work will be in line with the purpose of the exposition to extend the trade of this country into other lands. into other lands. LOCAL ATTORNEYS ARE GETTING READY FOR THE SESSION.

It Is Not Likely That Any of the Courts Here Will Be in Motion During the Convention.

Every indication points to the meeting of the State Bar Association next week as the very best that will have been held by that organization.

There will be three days of work and the meetings will wind up with a banquet very likely, as the by-laws of the association provide for such a festivity.

This last, however, will be decided on next Tuesday afternoon or night.

The executive committee of the association meets here at that time. All of the arrangements for this have not yet been arrangements for this have not yet been made. The general programme, however, which was mapped out some time ago, has been faithfully prepared in full by Judge John W. Akin, who has been the secretary of the association for a long time. His work has been faultless and he has proven himself to be in complete harmon; with the things best for the association.

A splendid lot of addresses have been arranged for, and, as already stated. Judge W. B. Hornblower will be the orator of the occasion. Papers on interesting special topics will be read at the meeting by some of the ablest members of the State Bar Association.

The sessions will be decidedly convenient. In the morning President William H. Fleming will call the association to order at 10 o'clock and adjournment will be had at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. As Judge Akin suggests, the members can see the exposition by sunlight or under the glare of the electric lights, which will probably be in readiness by that time probably be in readiness by that time.

The third quarterly mass meeting of the Woman's Parsonage and Home Mission Society will be held at the residence of Mrs. H. L. Johnston, 27 East Georgia avenue, October 1st, Tuesday, 10 a. m. All cordially invited to attend.

AT THE THEATERS.

The concert given at the Grand last night by Signorina Moreska was not largely attended, although its quality certainly war ranted a good attendance. Moreska is well known in Atlanta as the possessor of a fine voice, which she uses most artistically and she was heard to excellent advantage last Signor Valerga assisted her last evening and the concert was an artistic success.

It is announced that the Young Men's Christian Association has secured Moreska for a concert to be given at their hall in this city on next Wednesday and Thursday nights. In these concerts Moreska will have with her Charlotte Senion, the famous violinist of New York.

"Grimes's Cellar Door." The second night of James Mackie's "Grimes's Cellar Door" company drew a good-sized audience to the Columbia. As on the first night, the audience was a well-pleased one. Mackie's work created much merriment. Miss Sanford and the other lady members of the company sang and danced well. The Gotham City quartet is one of the best ever heard in Atlanta, and was repeatedly encored. "Grimes's Cellar Door" will be repeated at matinee this ef-ternoon and will close its engagement to-

Emily Bancker in "Our Flat." Miss Emily Bancker will make her Atlanta debut as a star at the Grand this af-ternoon, presenting her highly successful comedy, "Our Flat." Miss Bancker has won renown throughout the United States as a beautiful woman and a clever and accomplished actress. For three years the played leading roles with the late and lamented Rosina Vokes, during which time she established herself as a strong lavorite. In addition to Miss Bancker the cast in cludes such well known players as George In addition to Miss Bandker the cast in cludes such well known players as George W. Parsons, an actor of much ability; Philip Ryley, the well-known comedian; Neil Scully, Marion Van Courtland and others. "Our Flat" had a run in London of more than 700 nights and a long New 'ork run. It is said to be one of the funniest comedies on the road. It will be presented at matinee this afternoon, tonight and Monday and Tuesday nights.

Mabel Paige will play a return engagement at the Columbia theater next week ment at the Columbia theater next week. On the opening night, as an advertisement, the management will admit one lady free with each paid 50-cent ticket. Popular prices will prevail during the entire week. "The Little Egyptian" will be presented on the opening night. the opening "A Fatted Calf."

One of the hits of the season is William Gill's new comedy, "A Fatted Calf," which will be seen at the Grand for four nights and at two matinees next week. Mr. H. E. and at two matinees next week. Mr. H. E. Reed, representing the company, is in the city, arranging for the engagement. Mr. Reed has a novel advertising scheme which he will work today. At 12 o'clock from the street in front of the Grand he will liberate a number of toy balloons, each bearing an advertisement of the comedy and to each of which will be attached a complimentary ticket. The lucky finder of each balloon will thus have a free ticket to see the "Fatted Calf."

"Lost Paradise" at the Lyceum. One of the sensational plays of recent years has been "Lost Paradise." It is a live play, dealing with a live subject—the order play, dealing with a live subject—the contest between labor and capitol. The company presenting it is one of Gustave Frohman's, and is headed by William Morrison. The cast is said to be an excellent one.

PREPARING FOR THE MEETING. THE OPTION CLOSED

The Grounds of the Piedmont Driving Club Purchased Yesterday.

THE PRICE PAID WAS $25,000

A Club Composed of the Most Prominent Business Men of the City Has Been Organized.

Atlanta will have a new social and driving club. Its quarters will be those of the Piedmont Driving Club at the exposition grounds which the new club will purchase A largely attended meeting was held last night at the office of Mr. E. C. Peters by the promoters of this new organization Mr. Joe Kingsbery was called to the chair to preside. Mr. J. K. Ottley was made secretary and temporary treasurer. The object of the meeting was to act in the matter of purchasing the present quarters of the Piedmont Driving Club and to secure the amount of subscriptions necessary to that end. Mr. J. J. Spalding stated the object of the meeting.

The following gentlemen were selected to close the negotiations, which have been pending a short time for the purchase of he quarters: Clarence Knowles chairman, J. R. McKeldin, Charles S. Kingsbery, R. J. Lowry, J. T. Glenn, J. C. Payne and J. J. Spalding. The committee will close the trade for the property this morning as authorized by the meeting last night, then procure a charter and perfect all the necessary details for permanent organization. Sometime since, Messrs. J. R. McKeldin, R. J. Lowry and Charles S. Kingsbery, as trustees of the new proposed organization, secured an option on the Piedmont Driving Club property from the exposition company for purchase at $25,000. The property consists of a lot fronting 668 feet on Piednont avenue and running back 300 feet and a stope clubhouse. Recently the New York and Pennsylvania state buildings for the exposition were built. As soon as the exposition closes, on January 1, 1896, these two buildings, valued at $25,000, possibly will go with the other property to the possession of

by the new club.

The new club will have a limited and select number of members, who are some of the most prominent celebrities of Atlan-ta, and will take possession of the property in question on January 1st, next. This or ganization will be capitalized with stock amounting to $25,000. There will be one hundred and twenty-five shares at $200 each. All of the stock was spoken for last night at the meeting.

Cox's orchestra. At high noon on Thursday the first c the autumn weddings was solemnized, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Lucy Fisher Romare and Mr. Randolph Rose The impressive ceremony was performed by the Rev. Albion Knight in the Episcopal cathedral, and was attended by a large circle of friends. The church was beauti fully decorated in golden rod, palms and ferns and the bridal party under a bower of autumn flowers and exquisite ferns, presented a picture of sweet solemnity. The bride was attended by her five sisters. Miss Pauline Romare acted as maid of honor and wore a stylish costume of blue and brown. She carried white carnations and roses. The bridesmaids were visiting gowns of silk, suggesting the autumn shades, and carried bouquets of yellow roses. The groomsmen were Mr. P. M. Butler, Dr. N. O. Harris, Mr. Ernest Kontz, Mr. James T. Williams and the ushers Messrs. Atkinson, E. H. Barner W. S. Watson and Dr. Olmstead. Mr. William Elkin was best man.

After the ceremony the bridal party and immediate family were entertained at an elegant breakfast at the residence of the bride's father. The tables carried out the church decorations of golden rod, yellow roses, palms and ferns, and the occasion was in every sense a delightful one.

Miss Romare is the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Romare, and is unusually attractive and accomplished. She has been highly educated and completed her musical studies in New York under the best masters. She is of the decided blond type of lovliness and has a gentle, lovable nature that endears her to all who know her.

Mr. Rose is a gentleman of business promiennce and popularity, and is one of the leaders in the musical circles of the city. He comes from famous New England stock and is a very attractive gen tleman socially.

The creole kitchen has been formally opened and an elegant luncheon was tendered the ladies' and gentlemen of the governing board of the exposition on Thursday. The decorations were appropriate and the delicous menu was served most satisfactorily. The creek dishes most satisfactorily. The creole dishes were especially in demand, and there is no doubt that the cafe, under the social auspices of the woman's board, will be the popular rendezvous of the exposition. Already several parties have arranged for luncheons, and the ladies are enthusiastic over the patronage they received yes-terday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Simonds, of Charleston, S. C., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Owens, U. S. N. are spending a few days in the city. Miss May Kenny, who has spent the summer abroad, has returned home.

A brilliant marriage was solemnized at the First Baptist church in Cochrane Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock, in which Mr. John Lawrence Fulghum, of Macon Mr. John Lawrence Fulghum, of Macon, and Miss Ara Fugua were the principals. Rev. P. A. Jessup officiated. The attendants were Mr. Tom Ellis with Miss Lula Fulghum, Mr. Ben Tredwell with Miss Sadie Watts, Mr. S. C. Speer with Miss Sadie Watts, Mr. J. H. ding march in a most impressive manner. Messrs A. J. Thompson and J. H. Mulis, Jr., acted as ushers.

Mr. Fulghum is widely known commer-cially and now holds a high position with a large house in Baltimore. Miss Fugua is a most charming young lady, possessing numerous attractive qual-ities. They will make Atlanta their home. Miss Mary Towns, a charming joung lady of Senoia, Ga., has returned to her home after a very pleasant and enjoyable visit to her friend, Miss Mattie Clark. Mrs. E. P. Black, accompanied by her son, Mr. Eugene R. Black, is spending some time in Gainesville for her health. Mr. A. L. James is north and will be for some time yet. Mr. J. A. James and Mrs. James have been at Lithla Springs for two months. They will be at home Oc-

The Delegates to the Negro Convention Spent a Busy Day.

ROUTINE WORK YESTERDAY

The Convention Will Visit Spellman Seminary Tomorrow and See the Exposition Tuesday.

The auditorium of the Friendship Baptist church was well filled when the president rapped his gavel for order and announced that the third day's session of the great missionary convention was called to order. Many new delegates arrived last night and early in the morning the crowds began to assemble. At 9 o'clock when the services were called to order the largest number of delegates that has been present at any one meeting faced the speaker's desk.

The morning hours were devoted to the reports of different committees and general routine work. The addresses made touched entirely upon the vast work of the missionaries in the service of the convention. The great fields of missions is being actively worked by the boards and missionaries of the national convention and the light of the gospel has reached into far-distant Africa as the result of the earnest and faithful labors of the negroes who are interested in this work.

The session vesterday morning was full of enthusiasm. Those present were greatly interested in the work that is being ac complished by the brave ministers who have crossed the waters in the interest cf religion and civilization. The reports from the committees showed that many African towns and villages had been visited since the last session of the convention and much good had been done.

During the progress of the session of the morning the secretary announced that the exposition company had invited the convention to attend the exposition in a tody. The matter was about to be referred to a ommittee when the invitation was discussed. It was the sense of the meeting that that the three bodies were about to be consolidated, it was wisest to decline the invitation just at present and give their whole time to the work of the convention. The invitation was greatly appreciated, but for the present will not be accepted. It is probable that after the adjournment of the convention the members will visit the exposition in a body. The meeting will adjourn Monday and the delegates will probably go out to the grounds on Tuesday.

It was fully expected yesterday that the committee appointed Thursday would have report of the consolidation of the three bodies ready by the afternoon. The com-mittee found their work to be very difficult to perform and it will require much longer time than was at first expected. A report may be reached this afternoon. In the report will be embodied the name of the new association and also the by-laws and egulations.

Sunday afternoon the convention will visit the Spelman seminary and will hole the afternoon meeting in the large chapel of the college. The sermon at that hour will be preached by the Rev. Stokes, of Monday will be the last day of the convention, provided the business can be dis-charged, and everything wound up. It has been the purpose of the convention to establish a body that would be compose of the three orders that now exist in the denomination. This has been made the work of three years, but was not concluded until yesterday morning. Then a committee was appointed to arrange all details, which will report as soon as everything is arranged. The work of the convention is enormous and the territory represented by the dele gates present in Atlanta is great. When it is remembered that in every state and almost every county there is a missionary board, it will be seen that the colored race is making rapid strides in preaching and teaching the gospel to the world. In the convention are to be found some of the brightest and best men of the race. The grand purpose of the body is to aid civil-ization, which is based on religion and not especially morality. Higher education and religious training are the objects in view and in this work the race is succeeding admirably. -The appointment of judges of a number of county courts will be made by Governor Atkinson during the session of the legislature, which begins the latter part of October. He has in a general way been looking over the papers and indorsements of the different applicants, but will announce no decision until the appointments are made. One of the liveliest fights of all is that over the Rome city judgeship. The present incumbent is Judge Harris. who was appointed to fill a short term. His opponent is Hon. W. S. McHenry, one of Rome's prominent lawyers, and the friends of both men are making a strong plea for their favorites. A committee consisting of Hon. W. J. Neel, ex-Senator Dean, Hon. Mose Wright, Messrs, Eubanks, Lumpkin, Ewing and Hal Wright were before Governor Atkinson urging the appointment of Mr. McHenry. Both men have strong friends and the contest is one of those which is exciting considerable in-terest outside of Rome as well as in it.

-Mr. Henry Hess, one of the owners of the Anchor brewery, of Philadelphia, is in the city at the Kimball. Mr. Hess came in yesterday and all during the afternoon was under the treatment of an culist on account of a cinder which odged in his eye as he came down the road yesterday morning. During the day he suffered intensely and last night went to bed with a bandaged eye.

Mr. E. P. Simpson, of Toccoa, wrote to Rev. T. P. Cleveland, who is deeply interested in the movement, inclosing a $25 check yesterday.

The gentlemen who are working for subscriptions are very active and they hope to report at the next meeting Tuesday the coming of Mr. Moody has been subscribed. The canvassers have done splen-

Dr. R. V. Atkisson yesterday furnished a lot of subscriptions that up to date been furnished him. He said: "This list is all that has been placed, up to the present, in the bands of the secretary. There are other solicitors yet who have not reported, but as the Moody com mittee at its last meeting ordered the list published, the secretary gives this report to the public and awaits returns by the next meeting Tuesday evening to complete the results of the entire canvass. The figures in this report will be augmented siderably when the full returns are to but a study of these figures will amaze many. One of the pastors of one of our largest churches said that he could not erstand the indifference evidently manifested toward this movement, and you can see from this letter from Mr. Simpson, of Poccoa, Ga., which contained a check for $25 to ald on the work, that there are probably hundreds all over the land who are amazed in a like manner.

Sixteen of us at the last meeting pledged curselves to become responsible for $25 each and a number of others have been urged to do the same. There are a number of our city pastors who can certainly secure this amount each and be ready to report the same on next Tuesday evening. Three thousand dollars is the amount calibefore the contract is to be let. TUSCALOOSA OFFICER COMING

CHIEF OF POLICE BALL COMING AFTER ISHAM.

Isham Says That He Is Perfectly Willing To Go Back to Alabama and Be Tried.

L. N. Ball, chief of police of Tuscaloosa Ala., will probably arrive here today after Cannon Isham, the negro wife murderer locked up at police headquarters. He telegraphed yesterday that he would start on Isham was arrested two days ago for a crime committed in Tuscaloosa nine years ago. He is said to have murdered his wife in that place one night in April, 1836, and escaped, coming to Atlanta. He evaded arrest for several years and was at last discovered by accident. John Cardwell, a negro formerly of Tuscaloosa, who knew Isham there, accidentally met him on the street two Jays ago and pointed him out to the officers.

Isham is an old gray-haired negro and s well known in the city. He was for a number of years a trusted watchman for the Woodward Lumber Company and his arrest on the serious charge was a great surprise to all who knew him here. Isham admits having lived in Tuscalcosa, but he says that he did not murder his wife. He claims that the woman was killed by a claims that the woman was killed by a jealous woman, with whom he had taker to Alabama and stand trial on the charge against him. The woman confederate is said to be in the Alabama penitentiary serving a life sentence. She attempted to escape from Tuscaloosa at the time of the crime, but was apprehended just as she was leaving the city.

THE CASE OF DALTON.

A Prominent Newspaper Man Has a Word About the Case.

Mr. M. S. Dwyer, news editor of The Providence Journal, arrived last night to spend a few days at the exposition. He is at the Delbridge. Mr. Dwyer is an able newspaper man and will write some articles on the exposition for his paper.

"I notice in your papers today,' said he, "that John Smith, the missing oanker, is back alive and well. If you remember just about the time the sensation concerning his disappearance was at its height Mark Dalton was arrested here on a charge of killing old man Haswell, in Providence, my town. It was suggested that Dalton might have killed Smith and when the matter was spoken of he hinted darkly as if it might have been the case. You know that Dalton was carried back to Providence and he is now in jail in that city awaiting trial for murder. He was brought prominently forward in connec-tion with the Smith case.

"I remember the Dalton killing very well. It was done for money. They chased the man several miles, but lost him. He kept in hiding for several days, but was finally located by the visits paid him by a woman dressed in man's clothing."

ISSUED AN INJUNCTION.

Charge of the Piedmont Marble Co. In the case of A. J. Robinson et al., vs the Piedmont Marble Company et al., it was ordered yesterday by Juage Newman " ordered yesterday by Judge Newman of the district court of the United States that E. DeForest Simmons and James M. Malone and all agents and employes of Simmons be enjoined and restrained from delivering any of the quarries or property to anyone but the receiver, Alex P. Huli, who is now in charge. It was farther ordered that none of the creditors of the company should be allowed to levy or issue legal proceedings against the company's property. Mr. Percy Adams has been made special master in the case.

FOR BETTER SERVICE

The Local Mails Will Hereafter Be Given Especial Attention.

TO BE HANDLED PROMPTLY

Convention of Superintendents of Rail way Mail Service at Washington Transacted Much Business.

The service that is furnished the south by the postoffice authorities is to be given more attention and it will be enlarged upon and expanded. That is the information that was brought to Atlanta yesterday by Superintendent of Railway Mail Service L. M. Terrell. Mr. Terrell has been absent from his desk in the custom house for several days in attendance upon the convention of superin tendents of railway mail service of the United States. The convention has just adjourned in Washington and Mr. Terrell reached the city yesterday morning. All the superintendents of the several districts of the postal service were present, and some very important steps were taken that will add greatly to the effectiveness of the service in all sections of the country. "It was a deligntful meeting we had,"

said Superintendent Terrell yesterday, as he glanced over the letters that had accumulated during his absence.

"We have eleven divisions and each divis-ion is presided over by a superintendent. I am superintendent of the fourth division which embraces several southern states. Heretofore more attention has been given through mail than has been paid local packages. There was afforded better facili-ties for handling the mails than we could command for service in the local mails and on local trains. It has been the practice to hurry through pouches just as fast as they could be carried by the cars. For instance, we have the Air-Line Belle, that brings through mail from Toccoa to At-lanta. The packages are closed and are not opened until the terminal, Atlanta, is reached. Suppose a letter was put in the pouch at Toccoa addressed to Gainesville. The pouch containing the letter would be locked and brought right on to Atlanta. It would be 'worked' from this postoffice and re-turned to Gainesville on the noon train. Now, the idea that we have been striving at, is to have better local service. We don't want the mails to be carried beyond its desunation and then carried back, just because we have not a local clerk on these trains. And this is just what we will have before very long.

"The superintendents of the service have long been working to accomplish this end, and now success has crowned our efforts. The postmaster general is in touch with the movement, or rather enlargement, and he stated that he would see that we would have our service greatly improved upon.
"While at the convention I was telling of the postal car in operation at the exposition. The service is wonderfuly correct and speedy, and there has not been a single kick against the system. We are working a great deal of mail and have all the facilities necessary. The mail is worked direct from the cars to the trains leaving the city, consequently there is no delay, and the possibility of making errors is greatly les

Those Souvenir Postal Cards. Those brightly lithographed souvenir pos-tal cards of the exposition are piling up on the desks at the postoffice. Several days ago, just after the opening, about ten thousand cards found their way into the postoffice. The cards carried only a 1-cent stamp, and it was for this reason that the cards were not allowed to continue to their destination. to their destination.

Everyone who bought the cards put on a little green 1-cent stamp, thinking they would go for that rate of postage. In this the senders were mistaken, for the cards come under the head of first-class mail matter, just the same as if they were sealed enveryons. The cards continued to they ed envelopes. The cards continued to flow into the office, and now the pile has reached an enormous number. The entire lot will be sent to the dead letter office in a few days. In the meanwhile Postmaster Fox is anxitus that the cards that are to be mailed in the future have a 2-cent stamp placed on them.

Meeting for Railroad Men and Their Families Tomorrow Afternoon. Tomorrow at 3:30 o'clock b. m. there will be a most interesting service for rail-road men, their families and friends at the rooms of the ratiroad department of the Young Men's Christian Association, East Alabama street. Mr. Thomas C. Cleveland, until recently assistant secretary of the central association, will give a practical talk on the power of the gospel. Mr. Cleveland has gained for himself a reputation as an express and logical a reputation as an earnest and logica use of the piano, two cornets and two dies and gentlemen, are heartily invited to attend and strangers and visitors in the city will receive a cordial greeting.

It R. F. Madday Talks About Critical much over 7,000,000. This is a great come down for him and is indicative of what the crop will be at the close of the year. He farmers but less money than the one made last season. Last year was more propitious; this year the farmers have had bad weather to contend against. The crop has been made this season by enforced economy on the part of the farmers.

Mr. R. F. Maddox Talks About Cotton. Captain R. F. Maddox talked on the subject of the crop, its estimate and conditions yesterday afternoon.

"It is very difficult to tell anything definite about the conditions."

about the cotton at present," said tain Maddox, "for the reason that reports of late are very conflicting as to the mexpected turn in conditions. Three weeks ago we thought we had a fair crop. The wet spell and then the drought and other causes however. we thought we had a fair crop. The wet spell and then the drought and other causes, however, combined to change conditions for the worst very materially. Of course there was general disappointment throughout the cotton sections. It was a surprise, too, not any more in the estimate of the whole crop than in the values. The encouraging advance in prices will but just $16 more a bale in the pockets of the farmers than it did last year. There are several causes which brought about better prices for the staple. One was the reduction in the use of fertilizers. This reduction has been very great from what I have observed. We in Georgia have believed up to now that the crop was a fair cme, better than in any of the other cotton states. This state's production is about a million bales. On account of the causes mentioned in the foregoing, however, these figures will not be reached this season.

"I believe the result of the weeks." "I believe the result of the whole will work ill to the farmers next year. My reason for this position is this: The favor-able prices now will serve to make the farmers plant more cotton next year and we will consequently have a crop much larger even than that of last season. The farmer has plenty of corn and most of has been a year of plenty. These articles will run them for time to make the next crop possibly. I would like to see the sta-ple bring about 7½ cents per pound regu-larly, then the farmers would not plant

"i think the crop for this year will run up to between seven and seven and a half million bales. That, I believe, is a conser-vative estimate of the figures."

Mr. Hector D. McLane's Opinion. Mr. Hector D. Lane, commissioner of agriculture of Alabama, also president of the American Cotton Growers' Protective Association, was in the city yesterday and was seen by a reporter. Mr. Lane, whose position in the association of cotton growers has taken him all over the cotton states, is thoroughly conversant with the growers has taken him all over the cotton states, is thoroughly conversant with the conditions of the growing crop. "It is a fact that there is not as much acreage in cotton this season as that of last year," said Mr. Lane to the reporter. last year," said Mr. Lane to the reporter.

"It is also a fact that the amount of commercial fertilizers used was less. These two things, together with the fact that the crops have sustained no little damage from the weather and the worms and the like, have combined to send the price of cotton up materially. Last year we got only between 4 and 5 cents for our cotton. Now we are cetting over 8 cents per pound and we are getting over 8 cents per pound and it looks like the staple will go up to 9 cents or more before many weeks. I believe it will bring more than 9 cents before Decemwill bring more than 9 cents before December. The crop is very short. The supply will be less than the demand. Reasoning from the law of supply and demand the conclusion is evident—higher prices.

"I estimate the whole crop at between six and a half and seven million bales. It was first estimated at from eight to nine was first estimated at from eight to nine millions, but the unfavorable conditions have cut the crop very much. I saw yesterday that H. M. Nelll, the statistician at New Orleans representing Liverpool buyers, has come down from his high estimate. He at first placed the estimate at 9,000,000 bales; now he thinks the crop will not go much over 7,000,000. This is a great come

"Cotton is opening very rapidly and I "Cotton is opening very rapidly and, I think, all of it will be picked by the middle of October. The farmers should market their cotton judiciously—not rush it to the market, but hold it until they can realize a reasonable price on it. My advice to them is to sell when they can get a good profit. They hold the key to the situation now. The cost of producing cotton is about 7 cents."

PLACED UNDER BOND

John S. Smith Was Bound Over Yesterday by Judge Foute.

HIS BOND PLACED AT $500

The Trial Lasted Several Hours and Many Witnesses Were Present and Testified.

Yesterday afternoon, before Justice of the Peace Foute, John S. Smith, the money broker, was tried on a warrant charging him with larceny after trust.

At the conclusion of the trial and after all the evidence had been heard, Judge Foute bound Smith over to appear before the criminal branch of the city court. The bond was fixed at $500, which was given by Smith and signed by W. D.

Smith, a Decatur street grocer, and D. M. Smith, the father of the money lender. The warrant upon which Smith was tried yesterday was issued from Judge Foute's court Wednesday. Thursday morning Smith was served with the papers, when he demanded an immediate hearing. The case was set for yesterday and he was released on his own recognizance.

The case was called at 11 o'clock yes terday morning. Moody & Brewster were represented by Rosser & Carter and R. G. Hartsfield and Smith had employed Mr. T. R. R. Cobb to represent him. A large number of witnesses for each side was pres-

Mr. J. T. Moody, of the firm of Moody & Brewster, was the first one placed on the witness stand by the prosecution. Mr. Moody told the story of the business relations that his firm had had with Smith. He said that it had been their practice to buy or rather discount notes were brought them by Smith. Smith. a money lender himself, and it was customary with him to lend money in small amounts and then carry the notes to some firm of money lenders in the city and have them discounted, reloaning the money he had received from the second transaction.
In this manner, said Mr. Moody, his firm had received a large number of notes from Smith. Mr. Moody said that his firm would always give Smith the notes he had sold them and would take his trust receipt for them. These notes Smith would then collect and would make a statement of the notes collected.
"On the 17th of last May," said Mr.

Moody, "we gave Smith about $800 worth of notes we had bought from him, and he was to collect the money on them and make a statement as soon as he could make returns. The notes were out some ime, and as Smith falled to come to our ffice we became alarmed. Inquiries were made and it was then ascertained that smith had left town. The warrant for Smith's arrest was then issued and the reward was offered for his capture. Some time after the departure of Smith, Mr. Moody stated, he was given an order on S. J. Hall, a party who rented an office with Smith, for some notes that had been left in Hall's safe by Smith. These notes. left in Hall's safe by Smith. These notes that were recovered made a balance of paper still in the possession of Smith to the amount of $436.50, which Mr. Moody says is still due his firm.

Mr. Brewster, the senior member of the firm, corroborated the statements of his

Mr. Cobb stated in behalf of his client that Smith was being persecuted more than prosecuted, and that even the judge at that time did not know whether the case on which he was sitting was under his, jurisdiction or not, as the place where the offense was committed had not been definitely settled. At this juncture the court adjourned for dinner, reconvening at 2:15 o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Rosser, representing Moody & Brewster, spoke at length on the testimony that had been given and asked that Smith be bound over, as a clear case had been made against him. Smith made a state-ment to the effect that he had not appropriated a single dollar of the money to his own use and was not guilty of the charges Judge Foute recited the evidence and stated that the facts in the case, he thought, justified him in binding the de-fendant over for his appearance to the criminal branch of the city court, and that he would place his bond at $500. The bond was promptly made and signed by Smith. The paper also bears the signature of W. D. Smith and D. M. Smith as securities.

A Weird Story of Adventure. It was said yesterday that Smith had told a weird story of a midnight assault, and that as a result of the meeting between himself and the daring highwaymen one was shot to death by him and on account of this he was forced to flee the city. The story Simth is said to have told is one of the dime novel order and is thrilling in the extreme. He is reported as saying that he was met on Pryor street late one night—the night before leaving the city next day—and held up and robbed by three leperate men. As he was passing through a dense shadow a man stpped out and told Smith to hold up his hands. Smith had at that time, so the story goes, $1,700 in cold cash in his inside pocket. Instead of holding up his hands he quickly pulled his gun and fired two shots into the body of his assailant. The man fell at the fire, turned over ground and carled the shots into the body of his assailant. over, groaned and expired in short order. Smith started on towards his home, when Smith started on towards his home, when two men ran out and grabbed his pistol and brass knucks, and before he knew anything he was robbed. Smith was then told that he must hasten away or he would be arrested for murder. Smith left and only returned last week.

Smith could not be seen last night after the reported story was out and the midthe reported story was out and the mid-night encounter could not be verified. Says It Is a Fake.

When Mr. Moody was asked his opinion of the story alleged to have been told by Smith he said that it was a fake of the deepest dye.

"Of course there was no such occurrence Of course there was no such occurrence. Smith did not meet any one I am sure. Why, he announced to a friend in the city the day of the alleged tragedy that he was going to leave on the morrow. No, I do not believe the story in the least. It is simply absurd and without foundation."

Two Gorgeous Displays at the Exposition This Evening.

PROCESSION OF ALL NATIONS

Midway's Great Pageant To Be Followed by Pain's Pyrotechnic Display-Brilliant Illuminations.

A day of fire! There will be glitter and sparkle and scintillation at the exposition this evening. There will be the gorgeous illumination of the procession of fire, the sudden flash of rockets, and the deep red fire of aerial displays, set off from balloons hundreds of feet in the air. Back of all this will be the scene of enchantment presented by the uccessive illumination of the exposition buildings, the lines of fire circling turret and cornice and dome, and the white glare of the search lights, turning the buildings and columns and statues to marble and making a fairy land of the scene.

The Midway people have organized a great pageant, to be called the procession of all nations. It will begin at 7 o'clock, starting at Midway heights and will wind through the grounds by the agricultural building, administration torium. Pennsylvania building, fine arts, government building, coming down on the other side of the manufactures building, skirting the lake, passing the woman's building and thence around by machinery hall to the starting point.

It will be a procession of fire with all the grotesque characteristics of the strange people congregated on Midway Heights, and will include Dahomeyans, Mexicans, with their gorgeous costumes, Arabs, Chinese to the number of 200, with a great dragon 160 feet long. The Chinamen will serve as feet for the dragon, carrying it along, but this will be so arranged as not to appear too plainly. The North American Indians with their war paint and feathers and uncouth howls will make a sensation, The beauty show has been assigned a prominent place in the procession, along with the dancing girls, camels, donkeys and ostriches. Last, but not least, will come the spielers, those gentlemen of wonderful vocal attainment as noted for wit as street gamins, but several grades higher in the scale. All the bands connected with the Midway, including the uncouth tom-toms of the Dahomeyans and the shricking fires of the Arab minstrels will furnish music

The board of directors dignified this procession with their approval, and a resolu-tion offered by Mr. Smith, provides for the admission of carriages to take part in the

After the sensation produced by this gorgeous pageant has subsided Pain's fire works will begin. The spectacle will be the famous storming of Wei-Hai-Wei, a battle which but a few months ago attracted the ceeded in producing a thrilling and realistic effect by this bombardment. The ships in the lake, representing the cruisers of the Japanese fleet, open up a tremendous bom bardment of the fortress situated at the lower end of Clara Meer, where a back ground of scenery is provided by an immense oil painting 300 feet long and many feet high, representing the fortress and its environments. The agreement is kept up for some time at a terrific rate, and then 500 Japanese soldiers storm the fort, taking it after a desperate resistance. The whole ends in a grand finale of pyrotechnic splen-dor never surpassed in the history of fire-works. Captain J. W. English and several others who witnessed the first representa-tion of this spectacle on Clara Meer say it was grand beyond expression and surpassed anything they had ever seen. The day will also be enlivened in a de-lightful way by two concerts from Gil-more's band, one given in the auditorium from 2 to 4 p. m., and one in the quantorium from 2 to 4 p. m., and one in the open air from 7 to 8 p. m. accompanying the grand march of the Midway pageant. Victor Herbert, who thrilled the country the other day with his combination of national airs at the blue and gray exercises, has prepared a special programme for this occasion, and will make it one of the chief delights of the dy.

This is the best time ever known in her history to buy real estate in Atlanta. There has never been any money lost in Atlanta real estate when bought judiciously. On the other hand, those who bought and held property made large profits and the longer held the larger the profits. Every rich man in Atlanta has made the bulk of his fortune by buying and holding not selling—real estate. Time will prove that there is just as much and more money to be made on real estate in Atlanta and vicinity as there ever was.
